Eisenhower Meets With Party Chiefs

Defense Budget Gets Priority as Leaders Trek to White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower gave general budget problems and defense spending top priority at a conference today with Republican congressional leaders.

The emphasis on national security outlay came as somewhat of a surprise. Advance indications had been that military spending and foreign policy planning would be left for discussion mainly at another meeting scheduled Jan. 5 with both Democratic and GOP leaders.

Legislation Up for Review

The administration's general legislative program is up for review, with advance hints that it may include some controversial civil rights proposals.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty announced shortly after the start of today's session that it would deal primarily with the administration's domestic program, including a budget expected to call for spending of about 80 billion dollars. But Hagerty said it would be impossible to divorce national security from the rest of the program in any discussion.

Hagerty recalled that Eisenhower invited the Democratic leaders to sit in with the Republicans for a talk on foreign policy and defense spending plans at about this time.

Prefer Talks Jan. 5

The Democrats, he said, prefer to hold the two-party conference Jan. 5, just two days before the heavily Democratic new Congress convenes.

Underscoring efforts to rebuild Republican prestige and voter appeal, GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn sat in on today's meeting at Eisenhower's request.

Also on hand were Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, Dep. Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles, Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter, and Budget Director Maurice Stans.

Also on hand was Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon joined Eisenhower and members of the White House staff for presentation of the administration program.

Discussion dealt first with general budget problems. It was scheduled to turn next to national security programs and the task of providing funds, against the background of the President's campaign to reduce over-all spending.

The conference was expected to continue throughout the day.

Mike Rollins Funeral Held

Condolences Pour In From 'Everywhere'

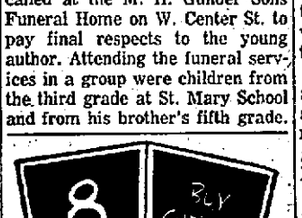
Funeral services for Michael Patrick Rollins, 8, of Marion, victim of leukemia, were conducted at 9:30 a.m. today in St. Mary Catholic Church. The Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor, officiated. Burial was in St. Mary Cemetery.

Six classmates in the third grade at St. Mary School serving as pallbearers were John Thiel, Eugene Krausz, Thomas Tanner, Michael Chill, Michael Miller and James Casey.

Mike died Thursday in Children's Hospital at Columbus. Today his family received for him greetings by radiogram from the 17 men at the Amundsen-Scott IGY Station at the South Pole, "the last place Santa Claus stops." It was relayed here by way of a ham operator at Clark, N. Y.

This was just one of the hundreds of messages, letters, cards and gifts which came to him from "everywhere" his father, James E. Rollins of 300 Summit St., said. Mike drew the attention of and sympathy of the public when The Associated Press told of the Christmas story he wrote and of his ambition to be a writer.

In Marion from Saturday night through Sunday many friends called at the M. H. Gunder Sons Funeral Home on W. Center St. to pay final respects to the young author. Attending the funeral services in a group were children from the third grade at St. Mary School and from his brother's fifth grade.



Talks Open in Paris

Big Three United Over West Berlin

PARIS (AP)—Reassured that the Western Big Three will stand fast against Soviet pressure on West Berlin, the North Atlantic Allies turned today to critical disputes within the alliance.

The agreement Sunday on Berlin by the foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States led off a week of formal conferences vital to Western Europe's future.

A communique said the Big Three foreign ministers "reaffirmed the determination of their governments to maintain their position and their rights with respect to Berlin, including the right of free access."

Rejects Red Proposal

The statement rejected the Soviet proposal to give the East German Communist regime control of Allied traffic with West Berlin. In effect, the ministers ruled out suggestions that the West deal with the East Germans as agents of the Russians.

The three ministers — U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd — gave no indication of what counterproposals they would make in reply to the Soviet note of Nov. 27.

But they said they were agreed on the basic issues to be covered in their replies. They said they would consult with the other NATO allies in the NATO Council meeting beginning Tuesday and then would formulate their notes to the Soviets.

Proposes Free City

Premier Nikita Khrushchev in the Soviet note said the Soviets were withdrawing from the four-power occupation of Berlin. He proposed that West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, be made a demilitarized free city. The Russians said regardless of what was worked out for West Berlin, they were giving the East Germans control of all communications within the city in six months.

The Western refusal to deal with the East Germans apparently left no alternative but force to insure access to the city if the Russians go ahead with the transfer of communication controls. The Russians have said they would constitute aggression against East Germany and that Soviet troops would go to the satellite regime's aid in accordance with the Warsaw Pact.

Joins in Conference

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano joined in the later half of the three-hour conference at the Foreign Office. West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt also spent half an hour in the meeting, giving his views to the foreign ministers. Dulles told him after the meeting, "You don't need to be worried."

Today the Allies turned to trade and economic policy with a meeting of the 17-nation Organization for European Economic Cooperation. The OEEC includes all European members of the Atlantic Pact plus such neutral countries as Sweden, Switzerland and Austria.

The French recently rejected a British proposal to associate all 17 OEEC members in a free trade area. The British still are bitter over the French action, and their officials say that reprisals may have to be taken to defend the British economy. The Scandinavians and some other nations are saying the same.

Other items to be taken up during the meetings this week include:

1. France's determination for a bigger voice in the Atlantic Alliance.

2. Continental hesitation to accept American nuclear rocket bases.

3. The dangerous situation in Cyprus.

4. The fishing war in the North Atlantic, involving Icelandic and British ships.

Charges Soviet Proposal Ignored

Allied Communique Hit In Radio Moscow Blast

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio charged the foreign ministers of the Western Big Three with ignoring the Soviet proposal to make Berlin a demilitarized free city.

The broadcast was the first brief Soviet comment on the foreign ministers' statement in Paris Sunday that their governments would not be forced out of West Berlin and would not do business with the East German regime.

The Soviet radio said the Western communique "bears witness to their unwillingness to allow any change in the abnormal situation in Berlin.

'No Reply to Proposals'

"In essence, it gives no reply to the Soviet proposals."

This was followed by a fresh promise in Pravda to defend Communist East Germany from aggression.

"The Soviet Union will not be hampered by irresponsible threats made by certain Western windbags who declare they will hold a clear road to Berlin with troops and tanks," the party organ said.

"If aggression against the (East) German Democratic Republic were nevertheless carried out, the Soviet Union, as the German Democratic Republic's loyal ally in the Warsaw Treaty, will fulfill its obligations and together with the German Democratic Republic will defend the integrity of her land, water and aerial frontiers."

Warning Implied

Pravda's direct reference to East Germany's aerial frontiers could be taken as a warning against any attempt to airlift supplies to West Berlin if it is again cut off from the West.

Western and neutral diplomats in Moscow voiced belief that the sharp tone of new statements from Premier Nikita Khrushchev indicated a possibility of cutting short the six-month period he originally set for negotiations with the West on Berlin.

Cold To Stay On, 5 Above Seen Tonight

Ohioans Can Expect Readings Under the Average for 5 Days

Marion County got precious little respite from the cold over the weekend and the mercury dropped to 6 below zero both Sunday morning and this morning.

Today's low reading made it the sixth day in the last seven that a mark below zero had been recorded.

This morning's cold temperature was within a single degree of the minus 7 that made Dayton the coldest spot in Ohio.

Over 20 Sunday

The mercury climbed to a high of 19 Saturday, but stood at a peak of 23 in mid-afternoon Sunday. As the temperature began to drop at sundown Sunday, snow began to fall with a total of one-half inch recorded officially this morning.

By noon today it was only 3 above, although a bright sun shown from a clear blue sky. A high of 17 was expected before the day was out.

The weatherman called for a low tonight of 5 above. And he suggested that it might get to 15 above Tuesday.

But he also pointed out that temperatures will probably average between 6 and 10 degrees below normal for the next five days, which would serve to keep Ohio generally in a deep freeze the rest of this week.

Rest of Nation Cold, Too

While Ohioans blew on frozen fingers and contemplated the continued cold, residents in much of the rest of the eastern two-thirds of the nation did likewise.

The steady stream of arctic air from Canada kept pushing into the midlands and spreading south and eastward, dipping into the Gulf region. Adding to the unseasonable cold was heavy snow throughout the area, even in sections of the Southeast.

The cold and snow has plagued the Midwest for more than a

Expected Yule Mail Rush Is Slow Arriving

Sending of Packages, Cards Falls Behind Last Year's Fast Pace

Local post office employes have braced for the Christmas mailing rush, but so far it hasn't hit.

This was the report today from postal authorities here who frankly are baffled at the inactivity to date.

Package and Christmas card cancellations are far below last year's mark at this time, Charles Elicker, assistant postmaster, declared.

Activity was light during special open hours Sunday afternoon. As Mr. Elicker termed it: "People just didn't come in."

Sub-zero weather, accompanied with ice and snow, may be factors in the lagging holiday mail rate, along with economic conditions, he said.

To insure deliveries by Dec. 25 the post office previously had suggested mailing out-of-state greeting cards by today. Parcels going to other states should have been mailed by Dec. 10 to insure delivery.

Mr. Elicker urged all those who have not yet completed their mailing to give this project top prior-

Gas Main Breaks

7 Die in Explosion At Allentown, Pa.

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A darkroom technician who wanted to be a newspaper photographer stopped on his way home from work to take pictures of a gas main explosion. Minutes later, he and six other curious spectators lost their lives in a second blast.

Lester S. Kraft Jr. 29, a camera bug hired last September by the Allentown Call-Chronicle, was driving home late Saturday night after work. As he reachod the outskirts of this southeastern Pennsylvania city, he saw a huge jet of flaming gas shoot up through the street paving from a broken main.

He parked and ran with his camera to the front porch of the 120-year-old Mountainville Hotel, a good spot from which to see the spectacular fire. Others also had gathered on the porch, or near it, to watch.

Minutes later the second explosion ripped the building apart. Tons of brick and stone buried the six victims. Twenty-three others were injured, two critically.

The second blast was followed by a series of lesser explosions as leaking gas ignited in the streets around the hotel.

The operators of the hotel, actually a tavern with living quarters on the second floor, were Mr. and Mrs. George Andresack. Mrs. Andresack's timely warning to some 50 patrons probably kept the death toll down.

"I went to the cellar door after I smelled gas and when I opened it, the odor was very heavy," she said.

"I yelled to the patrons to put out their cigarettes and get out because I was afraid of an explosion.

Moments after the bar patrons left, the hotel was destroyed.

Man Freezes To Death After Having Stroke

Clarence Vay Young, 71, of New Bloomington was found dead Sunday afternoon in front of his home. Dr. Robert T. Gray, Marion County coroner, ruled that death was caused by freezing after Mr. Young suffered a stroke.

He was found by a cousin, Miss Ollie Longshore of New Bloomington. Sheriff's deputies, notified at 3:20 p.m., said Mr. Young apparently fell from his porch into the snow and was unable to get up. Dr. Gray placed time of death at about 12:15 p.m. Sunday.

A retired railroader, he was born Oct. 17, 1887, in New Bloomington to Giles C. and Mary Irey Young. He never married.

He is survived by a half-sister, Mrs. Frank Reynolds of San Antonio, Tex., two nephews, one niece and two cousins.

Mr. Young was a former engineer and section hand for the Baltimore and Ohio and New York Central railroads.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the Ford Funeral Home in LaRue.

Shovel Withdraws Wage Boost Offer

A Marion Power Shovel Co. offer for a wage increase to members of the striking Local 1949, United Steel Workers, was automatically withdrawn Sunday night after union rejection of the offer at a mass meeting Friday. The firm had offered a seven-cent boost now (including five cents granted May 5), another eight cents next year, and another eight cents in 1960.

No further negotiations have been scheduled. The union has been on strike since Sept. 29.

$20,000 Blaze Damages Kent State Building

Religious Center Roof Burned Away; 2 More Fires Cause Big Loss

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Kent State University's Wesley Foundation center was only a hollow stone shell today—its roof burned away.

Smoke awakened Mrs. Hazel Glesenjamp, housemother and only occupant of the building, when the fire started about 6:10 a. m. Sunday. She got out before the roof collapsed.

Fire Chief Fred Miller said defective wiring in a basement supply room started the blaze which did an estimated $20,000 damage to the student religious center.

Firemen worked nearly six hours to keep the flames from spreading to adjoining buildings.

In another fire Sunday an estimated $50,000 damage was caused near Medina at the Bunker Hill Inn, and near Louisville in Stark County flames wrecked a barn and former feed mill.

The fire at Bunker Hill caused rerouting of traffic on busy U.S. 42 three miles north of Medina. Firemen from Medina, Brunswick, Valley City and Hickley were able to save 20-room mansion built in

Christmas Story Recounts Wise Men's Long Journey

One of the most appealing chapters of the eternal story of Christmas is the odessey of the "Wise Men From the East," who followed the light of a star to find and worship the Child of Bethlehem.

Despite its powerful elements of drama and mystery, most descriptions of the Magi and their trip are woefully brief and lacking in detail.

The Gospels preserved only a short description of the visit of the strangers from the Orient; the human detail of that momentous pilgrimage has been in large measure lost in antiquity.

George Cornell, religion writer for The Associated Press and author of last year's memorable "Legacy of Luke" series, set out to fill in this shadowy section of the story of Christmas. The result is "The Journey to Jesus," a five-part series of articles which starts in The Star on Page 3.

Cornell points out that many of the atmospheric details in the stories are conjectural, but the

Toys and Warm Clothes Asked for Five Children

"We ask nothing for ourselves—just for our children."

These words are being uttered by many parents this Christmas as they face the holiday without money to play Santa Claus for their youngsters.

Jobless, Mr. L. sees no hope for answering his children's Christmas prayers for warm clothing and toys. His wife has just returned home from a sanitarium and it will be the family's first Christmas together in two years.

The five youngsters, placed in foster homes during the mother's illness, are happy that they are once more home. But for those who believe in Santa, something more is needed to fill their hearts with joy on Christmas morning.

All five need warm sweaters. The sizes are 2 for the two smallest boys, and 4, 9 and 11 for the others. Gloves also appear on their wish lists. If there are any extra items left in Santa's pack, they would like games or gun and holster sets.

Clara, 5, the only girl in the family, would cherish a doll of her own to brighten hours at play. And she hopes that Santa will bring just a small tree with glittering lights on it.

Appeals like this may be answered by donating money or clothing and toys, either new or used, to a needy family.

The Junior Service Guild Clearinghouse has more than 200 cases on file where need has been verified by local social and welfare agencies.

Donations Reach $8,552 To Date in Yule Seal Drive

Contributions in the Christmas seal sale sponsored by the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association reached $8,552 today with only 15 days remaining in the campaign, Dr. Frederick T. Merchant, chairman, reported.

He said answers have been received from 4,500 of the 18,000 letters mailed to city and county residents with holiday seals.

To continue its program of case finding, rehabilitation and education, the local association must realize $15,000 from the current sale, Dr. Merchant pointed out.

He urged residents to mail their contributions as soon as possible, facilitating the successful close of the campaign by Dec. 31.

Three blocks of seals were contained in many letters. But if patrons wish to purchase only one block, they may do so and return the other seals, the chairman noted.

Journey of the Magi to Jesus

Scholars Scan Sky for Promised Sign

Editor's Note: Down through the centuries, one of the most fascinating chapters of the immortal Christmas Story has been the journey of the Magi. But despite its appeal, most of the details of that first pilgrimage to Bethlehem have been lost in antiquity. Here is the first of five articles carefully reconstructing the inspiring story of three men who unwaveringly followed the Star on a Journey to Jesus.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

As he had done each evening for months, Melchior climbed the circular stairs of the tower atop Mt. Vaus. He reached the roof, breathing heavily. He spread his maps on the stand and rested his arms there, gazing into the eastern quarter of the heavens.

His colleagues would be there shortly. The time cycle already had entered its penultimate phase, and they awaited a sign of its completion — the supreme "fravashi" foretold of old.

It was a spring dusk in the 31st year of the reign of the Parthan King Phrahates IV in Persia (6 B.C.). For the company of Rab-Mag Melchior, nature and careful computations had combined to bring about a state of acute vigilance.

First of a Series

They were Magi, the most renowned scholars of the age, members of the imperial order of priests, royal counsellors and masters of ancient, recondite sciences that would be lost to the centuries to come.

"Guide us aright, thou living god, Ahura Mazda." Melchior lifted his bearded face as the first glints flecked the sky. "Oh, Thou Creator of Life, primeval Spirit, Thou Wise One, give light to us who seek Thy truth."

FOR NEARLY a year, as modern astronomy has since confirmed, a startling sequence of celestial phenomena had unfolded before these mysic sages. By their logic, the occurrences were more than enough to arouse keen suspense.

But in addition, there are specific Biblical and historical intimations that they had even weightier information to alert them at the time Jesus was born, a year subsequently misrepresented in fixing the Gregorian calendar.

All the evidence must have obsessed the elderly Melchior (one of varying names ascribed to him by early church tradition) as he and the other Magian noblemen gathered that night on their high lookout above the clear uplands of Persia.

AS IMAGINED by artists of the Middle Ages, the Three Wise Men bore a striking resemblance to noblemen of Europe. This woodcut was carved to illustrate John of Hieldesheim's "Historia Trium Reguum" (The Story of the Three King), published in 1484.

They wore long, white robes, tied at the waist with silken sashes. Embroidered figures of a crescent moon and the planets adorned the rims of their caps.

As darkness deepened, they spoke quietly but intently of the implications.

"An auspicious night," Melchior ambled about the platform, making sure each observer was at his assigned sector and had measuring dividers and bar. "Would that we could measure as well, my brothers, the visions of the inner eye."

To these authorities of the remote, mysterious "Zendavesta," most of which later was destroyed, knowledge came not from facts alone, but by finding in them the expression of spiritual laws—by piercing the tangible to learn the truth it signified.

They perceived a grand, Divine interlinking of all time and space, from the least particle to the cosmos. Each material appearance was relative, a mere manifestation of a basic substance all harmonized by a common, universal force.

To decipher its majestic messages, they studied the earth, water, the air—and the fiery stars.

MELCHIOR, back at his desk, gave his associates a final reminder. "Take heed, my brothers. The finger of life oft writes in smallest script." Above the Pleiades winked and Aldebaron blazed red on the forehead of the bull.

"Tomorrow, a month hence, who can know? We have applied our subtlest mathematics, and looked long into the face of the fire. But who is man to read the hour of the Omnipotent? And yet, perchance, tonight!"

By every indication, they had available to them the cryptic, messianic time—data set down by the astounding Jewish seer, Daniel, who five centuries before held powerful sway in the courts of Persian kings.

The Magi, as the land's ancestral savants, had opportunity then to grasp the enigmatic chronology for the coming of the Great One as given by the honored foreigner, Daniel, in his seventh, eighth and twelfth books.

They also could preserve his prophecies of the event: "Behold, one like the Son of Man came with the clouds of heaven . . . and there was given to him . . . glory and . . . everlasting dominion which shall not pass away."

Beyond this, however, other tenuous factors linked the Magi with Israel's hope of a redeemer. Far back in time, Abraham dwelt in Ur of the Chaldees, which modern archeology has located on the Persian gulf.

ORIGINS OF the Magi's religion, of which Zeroaster Spitama was only a latter-day reformer, go deep into that same antiquity. Perhaps the shadowy Melchizedec, priest of the Most High God to whom Abraham paid tribute, was one of them.

Only they and the Jews, in all the pagan world, believed in one supreme deity.

The Magi's faith, too, foresaw a deliverer — "Sosiosh" — who would bestow everlasting, incorruptible life to mankind. Their archives also may well have included many of the Jewish prophecies of a savior.

Moreover, centuries before, the famed diviner, Balaam, son of Boer, a gentile like the Magi and also, like them, from the "mountains of the East," delvered his stunning oracle as recounted in Numbers 24:

"There shall come a star out of Jacob, and a Scepter shall rise out of Israel . . . He that shall have dominion. . . ."

So the Magi, endowed with their abstruse time deductions and the intermingled prescience of the past, had reason to watch the heavens. To them each turn of earthly destiny was reflected in nature — a "fravashi" — and they sought to detect it.

Three times in the past 10 months, marvelous displays (as determined by the astronomer Kepler 1,600 years later) had paraded before their gaze. There had been conjunctions of the planets Jupiter and Saturn in the previous spring, autumn and early winter.

IT HAD NOW been four months since the last spectacle. To the Magi, four was a perfect number, represented in the four basic elements. If a fourth conjunction occurred, they could only conclude some prodigious meaning.

Melchior's old eyes roved with practiced familiarity among the sidereal landmarks. As Pisces wheeled above the eastern horizon, he trained his attention there. Tidings in the constellation of fishes had the noblest import.

Shortly, his arm rose and he pointed a shaking finger, "Lo! The heavens speak!" There, against the jeweled blackness, not only the great planets Jupiter and Saturn converged, but Mars, too, joining in a resplendent trigon.

Awed exclamations burst out on the rooftop and some Magians dropped to their knees. Gradually, however, they grew silent, watching the luminous solar embrace. Stillness, deep as the reaches of space, settled over them.

But then, suddenly, as if a door of a pit had opened to the sun, a new light flashed in the eastern firmament. A new star, a stella nova, a flame no astronomer ever proved or postulated, burst into the world's night.

Its brightness washed the earth. Its rays glittered like points of a crown. It opened its sublime might to the tired and groping, and silver dusted the city below and trimmed the ridges of the mountains of Zagros.

THE MAGI SAW their star "in the east." There in the "land of the Aryans," there where the mystic wisdom of the Orient mingled with a faith older than history, there in the land of the nightingale and the rose, above the high plateau of Persia, a star appeared.

No one knows its nature. No record remains of it in the astral lore of Babylon. Whatever man's instruments or research may disclose has no bearing on that star. For the Magi saw it—with their eyes and in their hearts.

"Arise . . . for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. . . ." So Isaiah had written. "And the gentiles shall come to thy light. . . . They shall bring gold and incense; and they shall show forth the praises of the Lord."

Plan Cancer Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—American Cancer Society representatives from 10 states meet here today to prepare for next April's fund-raising campaign. One subject to be discussed is the establishment of an unlimited goal instead of a specific dollar target. "You can't fix a dollar ceiling on the lives of some 450,000 men, women and children who develop cancer each year," a society spokesman said.

IRS Will Seek $516,115 From Man in Lorain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal revenue agents have billed Sydney J. Rudolph, a Lorain, Ohio, jeweler, for $516,115 in claimed back taxes and penalties.

The notice was sent to Rudolph at the Federal Correctional Institute at Milan, Mich. Papers filed at U.S. Tax Court here do not explain this point further.

In appealing the entire amount, Rudolph said the Internal Revenue Service based its claim—for the years 1943 through 1953—on an income of $1,242,452. He called that a fantastic figure.

A large portion of the claim also concerns Rudolph's wife, Madelon, of (2650 Skyline Drive), Lorain, but solely, the papers said, because she and her husband filed a joint return.

Among other things, the IRS claims Rudolph omitted sales reports for his firm, Seymour's Jewelry Co.

In another case, Edward T. Kirtz an insurance agent, and his wife, Rosalyn, of Shaker Heights, Ohio, are appealing a claimed income tax defeciency of $51,502 for 1955-57.

According to their petition, they had been paying fees to Arthur L. Feldman, Max Feldman and Herb I. Baker of the Paramount Finance Co. for referring insurance business to Kirtz.

In 1956 the fee to this group was $28,000 and in 1957 it was $40,500, the paper said. The insurance was written by the Credit Life Insurance Co. of Springfield, Ohio.

Kirtz said fees of this sort are normal practice in the insurance business and that he considered the fees deductible business expenses. IRS said the fees were part of Kirtz' income.

Grain Tonnage Rises

CLEVELAND (AP) — Grain moved on the Great Lakes last month totaled 2,072,971 tons — largest November tonnage since 1954. With iron ore and coal added, last month's cargoes totaled 11,593,988 tons against 10,799,868 in November, 1957, the Lake Carriers Assn. reported. This marked the first time this year that a monthly total has surpassed the corresponding 1957 month's total, the association said. For the year the bulk shipments are 110,884,626 net tons, against 156,756,116 tons of the three commodities which were moved in 1957 to Dec. 1.

New Civil War Books Show Two Views of Robert E. Lee

By BOB PRICE
Associated Press Book Critic

HIGH TIDE AT GETTYSBURG. By Glenn Tucker, Bobbs-Merrill, $5.

CHANCELLORSVILLE. By Edward J. Stackpole, Stackpole, $5.50.

The sub-title of "Chancellorsville" is "Lee's Greatest Battle.' A considerable part of historical opinion views Gettysburg as Lee's worst battle. Here, therefore, you have the Confederacy's great leader at the high and low points of his military career.

Reading the two books in sequence—although there is no link between them except a coincidence of publication dates—enhances the contrast between the confident and daring Lee of Chancellorsville an dthe uncertain, groping Lee of Gettysburg. It throws into bold relief also the deterioration of Confederate command after the death of Stonewall Jackson.

Lee, of course, is not the focal figure of either book beyond the fact of his leadership of the Southern army. These are full-length studies of battles, not of personalities.

Tucker's treatment of the controversies of Gettysburg is interesting. He is sympathetic to Longstreet, more so than many critics, and more lenient also with Jeb Stuart, although not minimizing the crippling effect of his absence upon the Southern cause. He acknowledges Longstreet's contentiousness, but tends to the idea that Longstreet's strategic ideas for the battle were right, and Lee's were wrong. Tucker puts the major blame on the Confederate left, upon Dick Ewell and the subordinate who dominated him, Jubal Early. On the Union side, he sees elements of luck, as well as good judgment, in Meade's success, but credits the Union chief with wise conservatism, rather than excess caution, in letting Lee retreat unscathed to Virginia.

The cast of characters in Chancellorsville is less controversial. There is only one villain, Joe Hooker, the Union commander, unless you want to include O. O. Howard, commander of the luckless corps smashed by Jackson's flank attack. On the Confederate side, there were no villains, only heroes.

Do not take this as meaning that Stackpole's book is any the less valuable because it is easier to separate the black from the white. His study of Hooker and the strange inertia which seized him when he had the battle in his hands is unfailingly interesting. And Stackpole shows the same talent for making complicated military maneuvers intelligible that he showed in his previous accounts of Gettysburg and Fredericksburg.

Science Discovers New Way To Remove Warts Before They Spread
New Compound Removes Common Warts Without Cutting or Burning
New York, N.Y. (Special)—Medical science has linked warts with a contagious virus that may spread them to all parts of the body. Doctors say picking at warts increases the danger of spreading.
Now science has discovered a new substance that safely removes these growths without cutting or burning. This substance, in easy-to-use liquid form, dries up warts so they fall off, leaving only normal, healthy skin.
Reports show this liquid can be safely used at home, even for children. There is no pain, no ugly scarring.
In cases observed by a leading New York skin clinic, this liquid proved its ability to penetrate the wart, destroy its cells, and cause the wart to fall apart and disappear.
The name of this new liquid is Compound W®. It is now available for the first time without prescription at drug counters everywhere for just 98¢. Compound W is guaranteed to remove warts or money refunded. ®Trade Mark

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief. Our method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom any loss of time from work.

We do not treat cancer.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Case Farm Blaze Kills Several Hogs

RICHWOOD — Fire of undetermined origin leveled a 60 by 30-foot building on the Case farm early today. Several hogs housed in the structure were burned to death, firemen reported.

Richwood Fire Chief John Hartman said the fire department was summoned at about 7:30 a m. Firemen stayed at the scene for more than an hour to keep flames from spreading to nearby buildings. No estimate of the loss had been made.

The Case farm is located about three miles northeast of here on the Lenox Rd. A portion of the property extends into southern Marion County.

Managed Economy Makes News

The Democratic Advisory Council's policy statement last week made news in several ways. For one, it drew a tart comment from Rep. Rayburn of Texas, speaker of the House of Representatives, who said no advisory group can make the decisions that are the responsibility of Congress.

It also made news because it was an attempt by an assorted group of Democrats to lay down a policy line in conflict with the views of other Democrats of equal political stature. Among the Democrats in the Advisory Council, however, were Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's twice-defeated presidential candidate, and Paul M. Butler, the chairman of its national committee. As policy makers, they have as much status as Rep. Rayburn, who resents them.

But the important news in the statement is the section on a politically managed economy — an idea that first appeared in the New Deal era.

The statement asserts that fiscal and monetary policies of the Eisenhower administration and Federal Reserve Board are responsible for an unbalanced federal budget and a business recession. It declares that Congress should assume responsibility for expanding the economy rapidly enough to produce the revenue required to pay for all the welfare-state spending deemed desirable by the Advisory Council.

"If we restore and maintain a satisfactory rate of economic growth," says the Advisory Council, "the increases in production which are the ultimate sources of all wealth will more than cover the costs of these programs. In fact, public budgets designed to service these needed programs would in a fully expanding economy represent no larger, and most likely a smaller, part of our national production than the inadequate public programs of recent years have represented in a retarded economy."

That is a succinct statement of a politically managed economy's operation — to make private enterprise satisfy all the needs and requirements of the state.

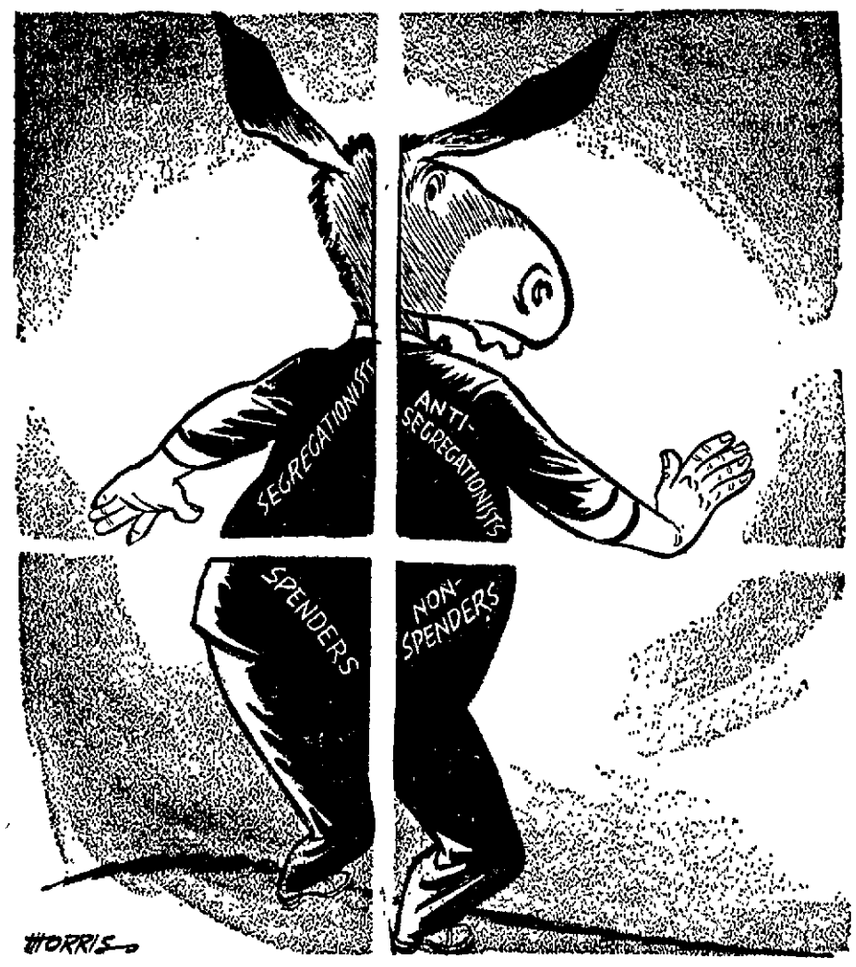
It is the welfare-state twist to the adage that it is the duty of the people to support their government. It says, instead, that it is the duty of private enterprise to provide enough income for government to support the people. Government does not retrench. Taxpayers try to catch up to its stated needs.

"Government expenditures, keyed to our vital needs and resource capabilities, are in themselves a key factor in maximum economic growth," says the Advisory Council statement "Conversely, maximum economic growth is essential to support the necessary level of vital government expenditures."

And to clinch its case, the Advisory Council points to the Soviet Union, whose national product has been increasing in recent years at an annual rate of 7 to 10 per cent. The average annual increase in the United States, asserts the statement, has been 1.3 per cent during the six years of the Eisenhower administration.

Therefore, in the managed-economy reasoning of people who think of the Soviet Union as the lodestar of managed economics, the United States must become more like Russia in order to prove its superiority to Communism.

Drawn and Quartered



Alabama Takes the Fifth

In their hot resentment of any federal investigation of election practices, Alabamans blocking the Civil Rights Commission are convicting themselves of the practices of which they have been accused.

They are doing, in effect, what individuals do when they stand on the Fifth Amendment to keep from incriminating themselves by answering questions in a public investigation or a court proceeding. They are testifying mutely that the only way they can avoid incrimination is to conceal the facts about themselves.

It can only be hoped by those who are trying to compose the deep and significant differences that have arisen between the federal government and the recalcitrant states in the civil rights issue that the issue may be clearly understood.

It concerns the ability of the United States to continue as a federation of states. There is vastly more to it than a tiff between individuals and sectional blocs.

In the mid-19th century, the same issue erupted into one of history's bloodiest wars. In the mid-20th century, it has erupted into a naked threat to the American dream of a federation of states.

Congress has an undeniable right to be concerned about the election practices of the states. Irregularities in some states have been a long-standing denial of the principle and practice of representation in the House of Representatives, as well as a denial of the civil rights of U S citizens. The continued existence of the federal government is at stake.

Every detail of the danger, it must be remembered, was foreseen and discussed by the framers of the Constitution. Though they did not foresee the issue over slavery and the evolution of the two-party system in all parts of the nation, except the irreconcilable Southern states, they did foresee that over-zealous defenders of states' rights would try tirelessly to scuttle the federal control over elections that was written into the Constitution to prevent that very thing.

They reasoned that the federal government had to reserve the right to enforce election standards, or become the victim of local and state prejudices. That is precisely what is threatened. And that is the chilling significance of overt resistance to a federal agency's attempt to obtain certain public records in Alabama.

Large numbers of politicians and political appointees in Southern states make a career of showing contempt for federal authority. For them the "War Between the States" is never-ending. They never have been reconciled to the preservation of the Union, and they have welcomed a fresh chance to show their contempt for the principle of federation.

Brooks Hays Against Orval Faubus

It is not stretching the point unduly to say that race prejudice in the United States began with slavery and will end when white persons quit feeling superior to colored persons.

There has been a long road from where the whole thing started to where it is now—and there is no end in sight.

But a significant thing happens whenever those who react violently against measures to minimize race prejudice get into a position to show rancor. Their violence always shocks their fellow citizens of moderate opinions into awareness of the ultimate futility of prejudice. Extremists offer no hope. Moderation does. Therefore, the weight of public opinion always is for moderation in the long run.

For every Orval Faubus making a political career of exploiting race prejudice in a Southern state, there is a Brooks Hays. Hays is the Arkansas Democrat whose seat in the U.S. House of Representatives was taken away in a fast political shuffle by the Faubus machine on Nov. 4.

Rep. Hays will be replaced by Dale Alford, an extreme segregationist. Hays was marked for the political kill because, he thought it was his duty to minimize the differences between races, not to exaggerate them. It is significant that his defeat will be investigated by the House Campaign Expenditures Committee, even more significant that he was the guest of honor in Washington this week at a bipartisan dinner of congressional associates who want Gov. Faubus and his associates to know that Brooks Hays, not Dale Alford, is the man they think should represent the 5th District of Arkansas.

Extremism has had its day in the Little Rock tragedy. The new school board elected to replace the board that was dissolved by resignation of moderates is less extremist than it was expected to be. The haters have run out their string. They have nowhere to go now but back toward moderation.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

An Indian tribe has declared war on the income tax, insisting that an early treaty with White Man made the tribe an independent nation. Take it from there, Longfellow:

Gitche Manito the mighty,
Stood erect and called his nations
Painted like the leaves of autumn
(With a tax on tree-leaf watching).
Swift of foot came Hiawatha—
(They had taxed him out of petrol)—
He could shoot ten arrows swiftly
(But his arrow tax was soaring).

Dressed in deerskin shirt and leggings
Prayed the young man in the forest
Not for greater skill at hunting,
Not for triumph in the battle,
But for just a tax-free wigwam.

"Rise, oh youth, and wrestle with me,"
Said the friend of man Mondamin;
(So they wrestled 'til our hero
Got a tax on high-test wrestling.)

On the shores of Gitche Gumee
Full of wrath was Hiawatha
(Nondeductible his wrath was);
Said he to the old Nokomis
"I am going on a journey;
Many moons and many winters
Will have passed before you see me,

For the tax men come in legions
With the Congressmen behind them
And the tax forms high as mountains."

Sailed he into purple vapors
And he heard, "Farewell forever;"
For the Injuns saw his finish
In the fight for lighter burdens
And his trip from Gitche Gumee.
To the land of Git-Ya Plenty.

Marshal Montgomery is going to TV to explain the crucial battles of the last war. Will there be a commercial for berets?

Remember away back when a "thruway" was a lovely country road through the woods and nobody cared if ten seconds were lost in admiring a majestic view?

Pat and Anne Johnson, Brooklyn dog fanciers, took the best-in-show with a terrier born and raised in the city, proving, they say, that a pooch accustomed to all the chaos of city life is always better behaved in the excitement of a dog show. They had a country-raised dog in the show which was jittery and performed poorly. Sounds reasonable. A big city dog quickly reaches the stage where nothing bothers it, except being overbabied by gushing mistresses.

"The sheer fun of just going out for a good old-fashioned drive has bogged down in all kinds of firepower, jet fins and gimmicks," says an auto manufacturer.

Limits on Subpoena

By David Lawrence

Alabama state officials are well within their rights in declining to recognize a blanket subpoena to produce records sought by the U. S. Civil Rights Commission.

Lawrence

President Eisenhower made an unfortunate mistake when he was misled into prejudging the case at his news conference. He said that failure to produce the records was "reprehensible." He added that it was a "refusal to comply with the basic laws of the land."

The question of what is or is not the "law of the land" in answering a subpoena is by no means clear. Actually, the President's own attorney general in recent weeks has declined to furnish certain records which a Senate committee has been trying to get in its crusade for "freedom of information" in the executive branch of the government. Was this refusal a violation of the "law of the land?"

The courts generally have insisted that, when a subpoena is issued, it must specify certain records, and not be merely a blanket demand for records irrespective of their relevancy to the case.

VOTING IS a state matter, especially eligibility. In Georgia, they vote at 18 years of age—in other states at 21.

The Alabama State officials contend that there are no laws on the Alabama statute books which deny anyone the right to vote on account of race or color. The question turns entirely on the judgment and efficiency of the local registrars and it is argued that their records are part of the state judicial process.

Also, is the Civil Rights Commission an arm of Congress or of the executive branch of the government? This has to be settled in a court proceeding.

Most of the recent rulings of the Supreme Court of the United States about the wrongful uses of subpoena power protect Communists and persons with Communist associations who have refused to answer questions of a congressional committee. Thus, in the so-called "Watkins Case," the Supreme Court of the United States, in an opinion rendered by Chief Justice Warren, said:

"There is no general authority to expose the private affairs of individuals without justification in terms of the functions of the Congress. This was freely conceded by the solicitor general in his argument of this case, nor is the Congress a law enforcement or trial agency.

"These are functions of the executive and judicial departments of government. No inquiry is an end in itself; it must be related to and in furtherance of a legitimate task of the Congress."

Certainly states have the same rights of official privacy as individuals have recently claimed in the Communist cases.

IT MAY WELL BE that there are many Negroes in Alabama who ought to be permitted to vote. But there are lots of people in America who are the victims of injustice, and the only way they can get justice is through the proper procedures in the courts.

The Department of Justice can, of course, go into court and demand that certain records be produced before the commission. Some of the state officials might even be held in contempt for refusing to produce the records. But, in the final analysis, the Supreme Court of the United States will have to decide whether the subpoena power has been justly exercised and whether it invades the rights of the states. It's too early to condemn American citizens as law violators when they have not as yet been adjudged guilty in a trial.

The basic principle of the "separation of powers" has been in effect ever since the foundation of the republic. President Washington, when asked to supply certain records to Congress, said:

"It is essential to the due administration of the government that the boundaries fixed by the Constitution between the several departments should be preserved. A just regard to the Constitution and to the duty of my office under the circumstances of this case forbids the compliance with your request."

Ever since that day no subpoena has ever been served on a president of the United States by Congress. Likewise, even former President Truman, after he was out of office, declined to honor a subpoena in connection with a hearing before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He claimed that it was his privilege because he had once been president. The issue never went to the courts.

The judicial branch of the federal government has refused to permit the legislative branch to encroach upon its records.

No legislative committee has been able to subpoena members of the judiciary with respect to proceedings in their courts.

Certainly administration officials do not concede that they have been violating the "law of the land" by refusing to testify before congressional commissions or committees. So it is difficult to see why the judiciary of a state is said to be "defying" the "law of the land" when it insists that its judicial processes must be protected from any encroachment by Congress.

A Place To Begin

By Truman Twill

An outbreak of trouble between members of a cult out in the great state of Cultifornia reminds me I have been neglecting my own plans to form a cult some day and take myself out of all moil and toil.

My cult will have nothing to do with religion, which can get to be a touchy subject. Religion already has more cults than it can use to good advantage.

Any movement that makes a big deal out of an idea can be called a cult without apology—and my movement is going to be for the restoration of natural habits of rest among human beings. No one can object to that.

We Resters will not have to go barefoot, wear robes, pierce our noses, or give up anything, except some things that are being overdone anyway, such as eating lunch on the fly and getting back to work promptly.

In our cult we will have nothing to sell, which will keep us out of trouble with the law. We'll simply go about preaching to anyone who cares to listen that man should be more like the dog and less like a whirling dervish who whirls for no good reason.

A dog always falls asleep after meals. He also falls asleep before meals and all other times when there is nothing he considers to be worth doing. When all is well, he sleeps all night and most of the day.

That is all we Resters will preach to a pooped and nervestrung civilization that has nothing to lose but its psychiatric problems and its ulcers and hypertensions.

Bit by bit we shall whittle away at the frenzy of modern times, persuading our converts to slow down before they are ordered to do so by their doctor, when it will be too late. We shall preach the merits of the nipper-nap, the 40 winks and the open-ended dopeoff, which is the one that starts immediately and ends when you wake up.

We shall popularize the idea of setting alarm clocks to warn people that it is time to go to sleep until they are so thoroughly rested and want to wake up and see what is going to be for breakfast. The way it is now, alarm clocks are being used at the wrong end of the day.

We shall press for laws to make it a misdemeanor to wake sleeping dogs or snoozing humans. What we are likely to do to late movies on TV and late-late movies will give fits to entrepreneurs with sleepy time to sell.

But what we are likely to do to civilization is to put it back on its feet, instead of letting it jitter out on its knees, where it is now. There is obviously something wrong and that will be the message of the cult of Resters.

Rights and Freedom

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Bill of Rights—the first 10 amendments to the Constitution—went into effect 167 years ago today.

It not only guaranteed certain rights and freedoms but was the cornerstone for amendments added to the Constitution later.

On this anniversary Americans, priding themselves on the principles of their democratic society, can ask themselves individually:

1. Do I really believe in the rights and freedoms—for all men—guaranteed by the Constitution?
2. Or is it only freedom for me I believe in—including freedom to deprive others of it when I disagree with them or dislike them?

HERE ARE SOME rights and freedoms guaranteed by the Bill of Rights:

Freedom of speech, religion and the press; freedom from being placed on trial twice for the same offense; freedom from being compelled to testify against yourself in a criminal case; the right to trial by jury; the right to confront a witness against you.

Even the framers of the Constitution did not believe in equal freedom for all men living under their democratic society. They put no ban on slavery.

That did not come till later, many decades later, after great changes in American thinking. The same with the right of all Americans — born or naturalized —to vote.

BY ASKING YOURSELF a few questions, you can test your devotion to the principle of equal rights and freedom for all men;

Say you are a member of a certain religious faith:

Would you, if you could, deny to any or all other religious groups and sects, and/ atheists, the right to say or write publicly what they think?

If you are an atheist, would you deny that right to people of religious beliefs?

You cherish the right to vote: Would you deny that same right to some other individual or group —Negroes, for instance—because you dislike them or fear their eventual political power?

You may hate communism but there is no law against being a Communist.

WOULD YOU, who prize freedom of the spoken and written word, deny a Communist the right to say in public what he thinks, even though it is critical of the American government?

The Constitution's Fifth Amendment guarantees a man the right to refuse to answer a question which he thinks might incriminate him.

Would you deny a man—any man, ranging from a ganster to a Communist—the use of the Fifth Amendment to avoid saying something which might incriminate him?

All the questions come down to this basic one:

Is any man ever free or secure under his constitutional guarantees if another man can be deprived of them because of mass hysteria, group pressure or things like racial or religious prejudice?

If it happens to one man today, tomorrow it can happen to the man who did it to him, since all that is needed is a change in majorities, emotions or group attitudes.

Pavement Plato

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

Total honesty is rare in humankind.

HAL BOYLE

Philosophers may argue at what age or time the average man is truly most honest.

I have thought this problem through, and I think a man is most honest when he fights against the idea of getting out of bed in the morning to face the problems of the day.

I have read often in my lifetime of people who loved what they were doing so much that they could hardly bear to put their cheek against the pillow because tomorrow would be so exciting.

There must be people like this. But in a crowded life I have never met them. The lovers of life that I have met loved today and worried it to death—they took life as it was at the moment in their teeth.

TOMORROW was a century for others

Certainly I admire the heroes of this world who hate the waste of sleeping and fret against the darkness that denies them the bright opportunity of tomorrow. But I am not one of them.

I am a lifelong and industrious coward myself, a penurious hoarder of now, and would like to stretch the happy leisure of the moment into an unimportant eternity.

In living you have a change of mornings.

Getting up in the morning has always seemed to me the biggest possible mistake a man can make in his lifetime. And he does it day after day, year after year.

So may mornings in a lifetime.

Can you remember sleeping in an upper floor and leaving the heavy quilt-soft warmth of bed to run downstairs in your long-handled underwear and spread your bottom to the red comfort of a stove in the living room?

Or to creep shivering down alone at a cold and lonely hour to light the fire in the stove? Or go into the basement and throw coal into a reluctant furnace and coax its grudging, overnight-dampered loyalty to bright, silent flame again? Remember how strange the house looked, so silent and waiting for the family noise?

These problems of arising in the morning are still only too familiar across the land.

BUT IN THE city where the same sun wonders the morning window, and a fellow has the climate of his choice by turning a knob, it seems to me his problem of getting up is no easier.

The today he loved has become yesterday, and the tomorrow he didn't know is now his today, and he has to get up and do something about it. All, as the poet says, is to do again.

It is human to hate to let go what you have known, and it is human not to face up to what you have to do.

Good night, day that I have loved. Hello, ugh, morning. Welcome, stranger, and make yourself at home.

Much as I doubt you now, you'll be a friend by nightfall. And then you will go away.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO—The booming of six-inch guns of Ft. Mont Valerian, on the outskirts of Paris, announced the arrival of President Wilson in Paris. The President was met by dignitaries, cheering throngs waving the Stars and Stripes and a red plush carpet. Marshal Joffre declared, in a letter of welcome: "I join with all my soul in the shouts of all France today, 'Long live the United States and its President.'"

Ohio reached a quota of $1,640,000 in the drive to raise $30,000,000 for relief work among nearly 4,000,000 persecuted Armenians, Syrians and Greeks in the Near East who needed immediate relief to prevent death from starvation.

20 YEARS AGO — President Roosevelt accepted the resignation of Secetary of Commerce Daniel Roper. Roper's resignation was the second of a cabinet officer within a few weeks.

10 YEARS AGO — The first child of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip was christened Prince Charles Philip Arthur George of Edinburgh.

Mal S. Daugherty, a Washington Court House banker who figured in the Teapot Dome scandal, died at the age of 86.

Target Practice

Khrushchev says that Soviet industry will be ahead of ours in a few years, and across the world the Japanese are coming up strong in baseball.

The modern uncluttered basement has pretty well ruined table tennis. The sporty part of the game used to lie in hitting high lobs over the clothesline and looking for the ball in the coalbin.

Judging by the cost of gymnasia for our high schools, basketball may rank among the nation's most expensive inventions.

The beagle is America's most popular dog, and it is not too early for presidential hopefuls to buy or make arrangements to rent one.

Daily Bible Thought

Mediator Bids To End Strike By Newspapers' Deliverymen

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's top mediator formally joins negotiations today in an effort to end the six-day-old newspaper deliverymen's strike that has cut off publication of the city's nine major dailies.

Joseph F. Finnegan, national director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, meets with representatives of the striking Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union and the Publishers Assn. of New York Citly when contract talks resume.

A publishers' spokesman said the papers would not resume publication until the deliverymen returned to work. The announcement followed an offer from more than 2,000 printers, members of the New York Typographical Union Local 6, to return to work.

Printers at the Daily News plant refused to cross a deliverymen's picket line and the paper was unable to run its Thursday morning editions.

All the papers suspended publication after Thursday editions of the three other morning papers, the Herald Tribune, the Mirror and the Times, were printed.

The afternoon papers are the Journal-American, Post, World-Telegram and Sun, Long Island Daily Press and Long Island Star-Journal.

The union originally asked for a $10 wage-increase package, plus various holiday, sickness and vacation benefits and a 35-hour work week.

The basic wage was $103.82 for a 40-hour week in the contract that expired last Sunday.

The publishers have stuck by their offer of a $7 weekly pay boost spread over two years.

Now Is the Time

It is wise to decide which funeral director to call long before the need arises. The choice can then be based on careful, unhurried investigation — something not possible when the choice is put off until the last minute.

Today, medical researchers accurately confirm the activity of many drugs in the body by using radioactive tracer elements. Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: My husband quit a perfectly wonderful job to open a TV and radio repair shop in our home. This has been going on four months and it's making a wreck out of me.

The first thing he did was hang a neon sign on the front porch saying, "TV and Radios Repaired Cheap."

Our once-lovely home looks like a hardware store. The sign blinks at night and keeps me up. He has painted the house red and white to "attract attention." Our 21-year-old daughter moved out.

People come and call at all hours. I have no privacy. The fuses blow out all over the house constantly because of his testing.

It's terrible having him under my feet 24 hours a day. He wants me to serve him snacks and beer like a king.

His boss has called five times and begged him to go back to his job but he says he likes being "on his own."

In the meantime, he's not making a living. He works 12 hours a day and there's no profit. His supplies and helper cost more than he takes in.

I can't afford a nervous breakdown. What shall I do? — VY.

Dear Vy: Give him a choice. Either he goes back to his job so the family can return to normal living or he can have the squirrel cage (complete with blinking neon sign) all to himself.

The situation as you describe it makes no sense.

Give him 10 days to make up his mind—before you lose yours.

Living Doll-ar

Dear Ann: I'm a gentleman in the middle 50s but I don't look my age. I'm part owner of a successful luggage shop and while I am not rich, I could make some woman very comfortable.

Last year I got interested in a lady who sells greeting cards. She installed a department in our shop and we became good friends. Being thrown together daily, we naturally saw a lot of each other.

I loaned her money to get a divorce. It wasn't voiced but I assumed we would be married.

This lady is 28 years old and has a couple of young gentleman friends who pick her up at the store.

When I inquire as to her intention she tells me not to push her. I let her use my car whenever she wants it and I bought her a fur cape for her birthday.

The palmist I've been consulting has been very encouraging. She said if I'm patient I will win. What do you thimk?—DUFF.

The palmist will continue to be encouraging — so long as your money holds out. And I suspect the 28-year-old greeting card lady is also aware of your liquid assets.

This "lady" is young enough to be your daughter. Get acquainted with someone in your own generation and stop being a sap, Dad.

Sad but True

Dear Ann: How many times must a person pay for one crime? Will you please say a word about parolees?

I was once an employe for the state. I got into trouble and had to serve time. Now I am out on parole because of good behavior and no one will hire me.

I've passed five tests but in each instance my fees have been returned and I've been notified that my name has been scratched off the list of applicants.

I must make a living and I want to do it the honest way How can I when society wants no part of a man with a record?

Must I return to a life of crime in order to feed my family?

I would appreciate a word from you on this subject. And so would thousands of others who are fighting this same battle. — ON TRIAL FOREVER.

It requires compassion and understanding to hire a person with a prison record but hundreds of employers have done so and profited handsomely.

It's easy to step on a man when he's down. Helping him to regain self respect and personal dignity is a tremendous service. The Greatest Teacher of All said we should forgive seven times 70. It is not asking too much that an employer forgive once.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Hearing Opens In Traffic Case

A Common Pleas Court jury began hearing details this morning of an April, 1957, traffic accident south of Marion which has given rise to a $4,614 damage suit and a $25,000 counter-suit by the defendant.

Plaintiff in the action is Myrtle Evans of near Marion who alleges she was permanently injured when the northbound car she was driving was struck from the rear as she was making a left turn in the driveway of the Veterans Memorial Club on State Rt. 23.

Thomas Malo of 127 John St., the defendant, filed an answer and cross - petition last February in which he lays blame for the accident on the plaintiff and seeks compensation for neck injuries he allegedly suffered in the crash.

The plaintiff alleges she suffered a fractured collarbone, torn ligaments and other injuries of a permanent nature. She is represented by Frank W. Phillips.

Mr. Malo charges that the plaintiff attempted a left turn without signaling and failed to keep a proper lookout. He denies the plaintiff's injuries were of the extent or nature described in her petition. The law firms of Wilhelm and Robinson and Fetter and Baker represent the defendant.

Police Reports

Mrs. Joseph A. Maniaci of 277 Bellefontaine Ave. reported that the Martha Douce Dance Studio at 488 Girard Ave. was broken into and a photograph of one of the students and a framed one dollar bill were stolen. She said also that a large phtotograph of herself was torn in an apparent attempt to remove it from the frame. She said entrance was gained through a rear door.

—:—

In the police reports in Saturday's Star it was incorrectly reported that boys throwing snowballs had knocked out the lights at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Nicolosi. She reported only that the boys put out the floodlights at McKinley Park lake by tossing snowballs at the switchbox and the floodlights. The lights are used to light the lake for ice skating at night.

Bucyrian Arrested

Glenn Miller, 24, of Bucyrus was picked up by sheriff's deputies Saturday night on a charge of non-support contained in an indictment returned against him last July by the grand jury. Law officers were unable to locate him after the indictment. He is scheduled to appear later in Common Pleas Court.

Crawford Car Crash Injures Five Persons

Three Autos Collide At Intersection; One Man Is Hospitalized

BUCYRUS — A Crestline man was hospitalized and four others were injured in one of four weekend accidents reported today by patrolmen of the Bucyrus post.

Officers said the injury mishap occurred at the intersection of Routes 598 and Crawford County Rd. 56 one mile north of Galion Saturday at 10:40 a.m.

Cars involved were driven by Tollie B. Stall, 67, of Crestline, who was northbound on Rt. 598; John C. Balliet, 67, of near Galion, eastbound on the county road, and Everett W. Westcott, 69, of Shelby, southbound on Rt. 598.

According to the report, the Balliett vehicle pulled into the intersection and struck the Westcott car, sending it left of center into the Stall auto. All three vehicles were badly damaged.

Suffered Fractured Ribs

Stall suffered four fractured ribs and a fractured nose. He was admitted to Crestline Memorial Hospital. His wife, Mildred, 63, sustained possible fractured wrists, lacerations of the hand and abrasions of the legs.

Balliett and Pearl Westcott, 66, wife of Everett Westcott, were treated at Galion Community Hospital and released. Balliett suffered lacerations above the eye and a bruised left arm while Mrs. Westcott sustained a fractured wrist and bruised knee and hip.

Westcott was treated at the accident scene for lacerations of the right hand.

Officers said Balliett was cited to appear in Crestline Mayor's Court on charges of defective brakes and failure to obey a stop sign.

Autos Sideswipe

Cars involved in a sideswipe accident on Rt. 30-N, three miles west of Bucyrus, were considerably damaged Saturday at 6 p.m.

Patrolmen said Fred Rossman, 66, of Bucyrus, was charged with driving left of center after his eastbound car grazed a westbound vehicle driven by Vearl E. Cross, 45, of near Sycamore. Rossman was cited to appear in Bucyrus Mayor's Court.

Another sideswipe mishap occurred Saturday at 7 p.m. on Rt. 39 just west of the Crawford County line in Richland County.

According to the report, cars involved were driven by Donald E. Wolfgang, 19, of Mansfield, eastbound, and Patrick Finnegan, 19, of near Shelby, westbound.

Finnegan was cited to appear in Tiro Mayor's Court, charged with driving left of center. Both autos were considerably damaged.

An Attica man's car sheared off a power pole on Rt. 4 five miles south of Bucyrus at 2:45 a.m. Sunday.

Succeeds Harry Laucher

Paul Augenstein Named President of Fair Board

Paul Augenstein Sr. of Marion Township was elected president of the Marion County Fair Board Saturday afternoon at the Coliseum.

Treasurer of the board for most of last year, he succeeds Harry Laucher in the top post on the 18-member board of directors of the Marion County Agricultural Society. He was named treasurer earlier this year upon the death of former treasurer Frank Burkey.

—:—

VICTOR H. KREIS of Richland Township, vice president last year, was elected treasurer. Succeeding him as vice president is William Earl of Claridon Township.

Citing the press of other business, William Haley withdrew his name from consideration as secretary and the board employed William Guy, a former Marion Township director who now resides in Pleasant Township.

Mr. Haley, who resides in Claridon Township, had served four consecutivd terms as secretary. The secretary is the only officer employed by the board.

THE FAIR BOARD also appointed Arthur Bish of Green Camp Township to a one-year term as director. The Green Camp Township post formerly was held by Harry Beaver.

Since no one filed nominaing petitions for the post prior to the deadline this year, the board was required to appoint a director to serve until the next Fair Board election.

In other business Saturday, the board set Aug. 22-27 as tentative dates for the 1959 Marion County Fair.

Magnetic Springs Foundation Planning New In-Patient Care

MAGNETIC SPRINGS — The Magnetic Springs Foundation, in an effort to better serve the citizens of Ohio and surrounding states in the work of rehabilitation of the physically handicapped, is offering a limited number of days of in-patient care at special rates, providing the prospective patient is sponsored by some qualified organization or individual.

Charles M. Frank, president of the foundation, annouced today that a recent action of the board of trustees approved this plan and authorized prompt action. From time to time the rehabilitation center is the recipient of anonymous gifts of money and these funds make this project possible. The Magnetic Springs Foundation is particularily interested, under this special program, in taking care of young children who have disabilities caused by neuromuscular diseases such as poliomyelitis, arthritis, cerebral palsy and muscular dystrophy or accidental injury.

Now in its fourth year of operation, the foundation recently activated two new phases of rehabilitation work. In June a special therapy development designed to care for the cerebral palsy patient was opened. During the entire summer a camp for handicapped boys and girls was conducted on the grounds of the foundation. This camp, sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi business women's sorority, is a permanent camp and will be operated each year.

Recently a festival and homecoming sponsored jointly by the village of Magnetic Springs and the various organizations working in behalf of the foundation, produced a fund in excess of $12,000 to aid the work of the center in its service to the community. The funds raised by this annual project will be used to reduce the indebtedness of the foundation and to provide a greater and more complete staff and facilities.

Two Choruses Give Program

The Lecture-Recital Club chorus of 25 women's voices, the Marion Serenaders, men's choral group and a guest organist, James Musolf of Genoa, O., joined Sunday to present music of the season for the Christmas vesper service which is a tradition of the Lecture-Recital Club. The program was held at Epworth Methodist Church.

Groups of numbers by each of the vocal ensembles were heard under direction of Mrs. Robert Waldbauer and L. G. Jones and the organist, brother of Mrs. Waldbauer and a student at Bowling Green State University, played selections from works of four composers.

A final number by the combined men's and women's voices with Mrs. George Griffiths as soloist was "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," MacGimsey and to close the program the audience was asked to join in the singing of "Silent Night" directed by Mrs. Waldbauer. Soloist with the men's group was David Richards. Accompanists were Mrs. Gerald Jennings and Ted Pollock.

An offering received at the doors by Mrs. W. J. Thomas, Mrs. Carter Patton and Mrs. Karl Shell was for music in veterans' hospitals. Youth of Lecture-Recital Club members were in charge of program sheets.

Ohio Lists 11 Traffic Deaths For Weekend

Fire, Drowning Add To Fatal Accidents, Hike State's Toll to 15

By The Associated Press

Until Sunday, all but one of the accidental deaths recorded in The Associated Press' weekend survey were the result of traffic. The exception was a Martins Ferry man who died when his home burned.

A drowning, an accidental shooting and a fatal fall were the other non-traffic deaths, all occuring Sunday.

The first death of the weekend, shortly after the regular weekend survey began at 6 p.m. Friday, was the result of a good deed. A motorist who was helping to get another car out of a ditch was crushed to death between the ditched car and a wrecker.

About a third of the fatal accidents involved young people. A 6-year-old boy who drowned Sunday was the youngest. The oldest was an 88-year-old Lakewood man hit by a car Saturday.

In all, 15, persons died. No multiple-fatal accidents were noted. The fatalities:

Friday Night

Walter A. Dixon, 45, Champion (Trumbull County), crushed between a car he was helping to free from a ditch and a wrecker. Another car hit the wrecker in the accident near Champion.

Saturday

Ralph Wardlow, 21, Middletown, thrown from a car that rolled over and struck by another car in Middletown.

William J. Welsh III, 17, Hamilton, when he apparently drove through a stop sign and hit a tractor-trailer truck at the intersection of Coles Road and U. S. 25 east of Middletown.

Herbert Aikman III, 14, Celina, injured Friday night when the car he was in went off a curve in Ohio 29 east of Celina. He died Saturday.

Mrs. Isabelle Adams, 45, Columbus, when a freight train hit her car at a Columbus crossing.

William B. Van Sickle, 88, Lakewood thrown through the windshield of a car that struck him in that suburban Cleveland community.

Stanley Boyd, 38, Akron, hit by a car as he was pouring gas into the tank of his stalled car.

Edna Keller, 68, Alliance, when the driver of a car in which she was riding apparently failed to heed a stop sign and crashed into a truck at the intersection of Ohio 44 and 173.

Fred Burch, 68, Martins Ferry, in a fire which destroyed his three-room home.

Sunday

Richard D. Pratt, 31, of Rt. 1, Cecil (Paulding County, when his car went out of control on a Paulding County road and hit a culvert.

Michael O'Dowd, 17, Hamilton, injured Saturday when he fell from a third floor window at the Summit County Home for the Aged.

Jesse L. Yonce, 44, Portsmouth, in a collision east of the Lawrence-Scioto County line in Lawrence County.

William Bartnicki, 6, Barton (Belmont County), drowned in Wheeling Creek while ice skating.

Jack Brain, 51, Rt. 4, Guilford Lake (Columbiana County), shot while cleaning his shotgun.

termined from available records.

All sorts of traditions about the Magi were carried on by word of mouth through early Christian times, and set down by the church fathers.

In considering these sources, Cornell weighed them against the historical and Gospel data, keeping whatever survived the test. He was surprised to find that much of the general consensus of these legends fits in with the likely possibilities.

"Rationalists sometimes have attacked the Magi story as pure myth," Cornell says. "Except for the supernatural attributes given the star, however, it squares fully with the personalities, conditions and attitudes of those reported involved.

"And I think anybody, even in the space age, will admit there still are lots of unknowns so far as the stars are concerned."

1814 and only a few feet away from the Inn. Mrs. Bonita Ingrim, owner of the inn and mansion, said a number of valuable antiques were destroyed in the fire that wrecked the bar, kitchen, dining room, smorgasbord room, and golf course clubhouse in the basement.

In the fire near Louisville a 1930 fire pumper owned by the Louisville Fire Department and the barn it was parked in were destroyed. The building near Ohio 44, formerly housed the Stahl & Royer feed mill which closed six years ago. No damage estimate was made and the cause of the fire was not determined.

Flier Hunts 4 Missing Explorers in Antarctic

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet flier searched across frozen antarctic wastes today for four Belgian explorers who abandoned their crashed plane and set out on foot.

The flier reported by radio early today that he had not found the men, who had set out Thursday for a supply depot 80 miles from the crash site.

Soviet pilot Viktor Perov found the wreckage of the Belgians' plane Sunday and landed his ski-equipped L12, Soviet version of the DC3, to look for survivors. He then took off over the crevasse-dotted site and patrolled the area.

Weigh Pacifist's Conviction

Counsel for Cincinnati Minister Studies Appeal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two lawyers have one more week to decide the frustrating problem of whether to fight the conviction of a stubborn pacifist minister.

The Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin says he doesn't want an appeal on his conviction on a charge of ignoring a summons to an income tax conference.

His two court-appointed attorneys, convinced that the pastor was wrongly convicted, aren't sure what the law allows them to do.

Find No Precedent

"We have searched and have found no precedent covering our problem," said Fred Dewey, professor of law at the University of Cincinnati.

He said he and Theodore M. Berry, the other court-appointed attorney, think they could file for a new trial.

Dewey said, "We feel the court erred in making remarks about taxes and other matters that were not in evidence and about which we were forbidden by the judge to touch upon."

Judge John H. Druffel presided at the one-day trial last Friday in U. S. District Court.

Grounds for Appeal

Before sentencing the minister to six months in prison and a $250 fine, the judge denounced him for his stand against paying income taxes because they help pay for war weapons.

Dewey said, "We think we have good grounds for an appeal," but he said the Rev. Mr. McCrackin's complete lack of cooperation with his attorneys "may present difficulties."

He said testimony failed to show the Internal Revenue Service agent who issued the summons had the authority to do so.

From his jail cell, the Rev. Mr. McCrackin said Saturday, "from the start I have said that this is not a legal battle.

"This is a moral struggle. It is a struggle against the evil of war and the evil of the involvement of the courts in the collection of funds for this evil.

"I have never denied that I ignored the summons.

"I don't want this fought through on a technical point as to whether the summons was properly issued, but on the point that a government does not have the right to coerce the conscience of its citizens."

The minister said he hopes to continue as pastor of the Presbyterian-Episcopal church here and as director of its neighborhood house.

Bishop Henry Wise Hobson of the Episcopal Diocese has indicated he would like the controversial minister dropped as the house director, but not as pastor.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Drivers were arrested in both county accidents reported today by Marion post patrolmen.

Silas K. Fuller, 53, of Marengo was charged with unsafe operation after his auto collided with a vehicle driven by Joseph A. LaRosa, 60, of Columbus at the intersection of Routes 95 and 98 Saturday at 2:05 p.m.

Patrolmen said the Fuller auto, eastbound on Rt. 95, and the LaRosa car, southbound on Rt. 98, were considerably damaged.

Clara Fuller, 48, of Marengo, a passenger in the Fuller car, sustained a bruised shoulder, but was not treated.

A collision at the intersection of Neff and East Streets in Morral badly damaged two cars Saturday at 4:15 p.m., officers said.

Autos involved were driven by Charles N. Rice, 21, of near Marion, westbound on Neff St., and Thomas F. Elliott, 16, of Morral, northbound on East St.

Charged with failure to yield the right of way, Elliott was cited to appear in Juvenile Court at a later date.

Eight Mishaps in City

Eight minor traffic accidents were investigated over the weekend by Marion police.

Roy W. Leonard, 40, of 378 S. Prospect St. was charged with leaving the scene of an accident after one of them. It occurred in the 100 block of S. State St. at 12:18 a.m. Sunday when a parked car owned by D. E. Weaver of 722 Mt. Vernon Ave. was struck by another car which did not stop. Mr. Leonard was cited to appear in Municipal Court today on the charge.

A car driven by Verlin D. Wilde, 28, of near Marion struck a car parked in the 600 block of E. Center St. at 9:47 p.m. Saturday. The parked car was owned by Mary Ellen Moyer of near Prospect.

A car driven by Walter V. Haines, 35, of 511 Patterson St. was struck from the rear at S. Prospect and Pearl streets at 1:31 p.m. Saturday. Driver of the other car was Bonnie Lou Reed of 1170 Cheney Ave.

Each of the other five accidents in the city caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

week, but winter doesn't officially start until next Monday.

Chicago, like other Midwest cities, has had zero or below zero temperatures six times since the start of the cold wave. It was—7 early today, with lower marks in suburban areas.

The coldest weather was confined to the upper and middle Mississippi Valley and western sections of the Great Lakes region. Temperatures were mostly below zero and as low as 10 to 15 below in many places.

It was zero as far south as Fayetteville, Ark., as the icy air knifed into the South.

Tax Deadline Extended

The county commissioners today extended until Jan. 20 the deadline for collection of real estate taxes for the first half of 1958. The original deadline was Dec. 20.

The extension was requested by County Treasurer Marion E. Hinklin who told the commissioners that "due to conditions beyond our control, we will be unable to close the tax collection on Dec. 20. . . ."

Bender's Work Costs $25,000 To Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators said today appointment of ex-Sen. George Bender to head a Teamsters Union clean-up committee has cost the union nearly $25,000 so far.

Of the total, said Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Rackets Committee, $15,750 represents fees paid to Bender since his appointment last Aug. 18 by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

McClellan said information obtained by the committee shows that Bender charged the Teamsters for 63 working days, over a period of about three months, at the rate of $250 a day.

In addition, McClellan said, the union has spent $3,000 for the salary of Bender's personal secretary and lesser amounts for postage, telephone bills and other expenses to bring the total to $24,800.58.

The expenditures were detailed by McClellan in a letter to Martin F. O'Donoghue, chairman of a court-appointed board of monitors for the scandal-tarred Teamsters Union.

McClellan told O'Donoghue he was bringing the matter to his attention because of "your interest in possible wasteful duplication of Teamsters Union funds."

23 Cardinals Are Appointed By Pope John

Consistory Approves Choices; 2 Americans Are Among Selections

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today formally elevated the archbishops of Philadelphia and Boston and 21 other Roman Catholic prelates to the rank of cardinal.

Twenty-three of the 51 other princes of the church, meeting in secret consistory at the Vatican, gave their silent assent to the Pope's action, confirming the choices he had announced Nov. 17.

The pontiff, himself crowned supreme ruler of the church only last month, increased the membership of the Sacred College to 74 and gave the world's half-billion members of the church their broadest representation ever in the high senate body.

Elevation of the new cardinals broke the limit of 70 set for the college by Pope Sixtus V in 1586.

In his address to the Sacred College telling of his choices, the pontiff called particular attention to the persecution of Catholics by the Communist regime in China: Missionaries have been expelled and many archbishops and bishops, "full of zeal and courage, are in prison, or restricted or impeded in the free exercise of their pastoral ministry," he said.

"The clergy and faithful have become the target of blandishments, menaces, physical and moral tortures," the Pope continued, in order to force them "to break the bond of obedience and love which links them with the See of Peter."

Some Fear Orders of Men

"Unfortunately," he went on, "we have to declare with sorrow that there are not wanting some who, fearing the orders of men more than the sacred judgment of God, have so far yielded to the commands of persecutors as to accept sacrilegious episcopal consecration from which no power of jurisdiction can be derived since it was conferred without the mandate of the Holy See."

Pope John asked the Catholic bishops of the world to arrange for "public occasions of prayer and penance" to beseech God to "enlighten the minds of those who are going astray" and to "give strength or will" to all the Catholics of China.

After the consistory, papal messengers went out from the Vatican to notify the new cardinals officially of their elevation.

Two Americans Notified

The two Americans, Richard James Cushing, 63, of Boston, and John F. O'Hara, 70, Philadelphia, received the word at the North American Pontifical College, high on Rome's Janiculum Hill. Also notified with them was Amleto Cicognani, whose elevation ended his 26-year tenure as apostolic delegate to the United States.

The new cardinals will receive their red birettas—square-shaped, close-fitting hats and a symbol of office—at a semipublic consistory in the Vatican Wednesday.

On Thursday will come the climactic public ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica, when the Pope will present the broad-brimmed galeros, the special red hat of the office, to the new princes of the church.

Two of the new cardinals were not in Rome and will not participate in the ceremonies this week. Joseph Bueno y Monreal, archbishop of Seville, will receive his notification and red hat from Generalissimo Francisco Franco, Spanish chief of state. Fernando Cento, papal nuncio to Portugal, will get his from President Americo Tomas in Lisbon. This is by ancient accord between the Vatican and such Catholic states.

Notes Expanding Duties

In an address in Latin, Pope John said that in increasing the membership of the Sacred College, he had in mind the great and expanding duties of its members. He said he had in mind particularly lightening the burdens of the present cardinal members of the Vatican Curia, the central administration of the church.

The Pope did not say directly whether he intends to increase the size of the college still more in the future, as has been speculated. But he did say that he had in mind many other prelates of the church who had "proved themselves very worth of this high honor."

The new cardinals are from nine nations, including the 13 from Italy. They bring the number of nations represented in the college to 27. Mexico and Uruguay obtained their first princes of the church.

The consistory was the first since Jan. 12, 1953, when the late Pius XII created 24 cardinals.

Prophecy Fulfilled

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Holdup men finally got a veteran jeweler who once declared "if anyone wants to rob me they'll have to kill me."

The body of Ira C. Faircloth, 71, was found sprawled in his store Sunday. He had been shot twice.

The store had been looted of an undetermined amount of jewelry and cash.

Judge Gives Talk to Township Officials; Officers Re-Elected

The Marion County Township Trustees and Clerks Association retained all officers for a cstomary second term Saturday night.

Re-elected during the associations last quarterly dinner meeting at Ridgedale High School were: John E. Ruth, Richland Township trustee, president; Paul E. McWherter, Salt Rock Township trustee, vice president; Ralph Wagner, Pleasant Township clerk, secretary - treasurer, and Charles H. Allen, Bowling Green Township trustee, executive committeeman.

Reviews Court Operations

Principal speaker at the meeting, sponsored annually by County Engineer Reed Ours, was Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith who gave a "birds-eye view" of local court operations.

Judge Smith said the volume of divorce cases handled by his court has swelled to an average of nearly one a day. All such cases are handled quickly, he said, because of potential danger from violence.

Criminal cases also are on an upswing, the judge said. He said the court already has processed 89 cases this year against a total of 54 during 1957.

Most Citizens Good

"The last grand jury in Marion County brought back a total of 27 indictments and a great share of these individuals were from 18 to 22 years of age," said Judge Smith. "It was by far the largest number of indictments from any one grand jury in the 14 years I have been your common pleas judge."

The majority of our citizens are outstanding and good people, said the judge. "There is no substitute for the role of the church and religion in the lives of growing children and of men and women."

Kenneth Tobin, Marion Township clerk and vice president of the state trustees and clerks association, gave brief remarks on the coming state convention Jan. 22-24 in Columbus. Mr. Allen reported on the executive committee meeting in Columbus.

John Cottrell, clerk in the county engineer's office, gave the invocation. Judge Smith was introduced by County Engineer Ours. Approximately 110 association members, their wives and guests attended the meeting.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Decongestant Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Why Millions Call Him "HOLY FATHER"

Catholic loyalty to the Pope is the cause of never-ending amazement to many non-Catholics.

They wonder how an exclusively spiritual leader can command the devotion of nearly four hundred millions of people. They cannot explain why this vast religious family . . . representing every race, color, language and political belief on the face of the earth . . . lives and grows through the ages, while man-made empires have their day of glory and then disappear.

What is there about this one man that causes people to speak of him in a hundred tongues as "Holy Father"?

We find the answer, of course, not necessarily in the holiness of the man himself, but in his Christ-given office. The answer is found by tracing the history of the Catholic Church . . . the history of 262 successive Popes . . . back through nearly 2,000 years to Jesus Christ Himself.

We know as a matter of historical fact that Christ did establish His Church . . . that He commissioned the Apostle Peter as its first head . . . that He sent His Apostles forth to teach men to observe all things He had commanded.

We know from the New Testament that the Church was actually organized . . . that it was governed by the Apostles under the leadership of Peter . . . that it was teaching Christ's truth far and wide, long before the last book of the New Testament was written, and the books of the Bible were collected into one volume.

Christ's purpose in organizing a Church was to make certain that the good news of Redemption would be preached to all men . . . even to the end of the world. To accomplish this with fallible men, required that He establish a Church — divinely protected from error in transmitting His teaching through the centuries.

The Catholic Church traces its unbroken history back to the Apostles — back to Christ. And Catholics today call Pope John XXIII "Holy Father" because he is the lawful and historical successor to Peter, the first Pope. He is in our time . . . as Peter was in the first century . . . the Vicar of Christ on earth.

Would you like to know more about the Pope . . . why the promises made by Christ to Peter and his successors make the Pope the most important man in the world? Then write today for a pamphlet which we shall send you free, in a plain wrapper. And nobody will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-4.

Marion Schools Decorated for Christmas Season

Pupils Busy With Plans For Programs To Be Given for Parents

By JUNE ROSEBERRY
Marion Star Education Editor

Preparing for the arrival of Dec. 25 is just as exciting for school children as the day itself.

Students get an early introduction to the Yuletide season in their classrooms, which are transformed into a fantasy of decorations and in participating in special festivities and projects.

Typical of the "bustling activity" in city elementary buildings is that at Oakland where wide-eyed youngsters are at work on Christmas preparations.

Eighty-five students, representing all classrooms in the building are putting the finishing touches on their Christmas program to be presented Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. during the PTA meeting and for the student body that afternoon.

—:—

THE COSTUMED production will illustrate the Christmas story in song against a background of Scripture readings from St. Matthew and St. Luke.

During the normal course of classwork, educational projects relating to the holiday season are not overlooked. These abound not only in art, but in other subjects.

Arithmetic and Christmas go hand in hand in Miss Helen Evans' first grade room. Each youngster has brought a favorite toy to class for a holiday store.

They have set up business, "purchasing" toys with paper money. Students take turns playing clerk and customer. A favorite toy is selected from the colorful shelf and kept at the youngster's desk one day.

Miss Evans notes that although the children cannot make coin change, they know the meaning of numbers from 1 to 10 and recognize these figures on the bills, learning the cost of the particular toy they purchase.

A colorful addition to the toy display is a gingerbread house made by one of the mothers with all sorts of candies lining the walls. White icing creates a snow covered front yard for the house and tiny decorations such as sleighs and trees complete the winter holiday scene.

IN OTHER rooms the Christmas customs of different lands and a history of the Yuletide holiday are current topics of interest in social studies.

Children in Mrs. Judy Daum's second grade are being introduced to Christmas carols popular in Switzerland. A large music box from that country contains the base for a tree which rotates as the music plays. The youngsters plan to put their own room tree in this base and decorate it with ornaments they have made themselves.

This particular classroom also is dotted with construction paper stockings each student has made with his name written across the top in anticipation of Santa's visit.

A marshmallow castle trimmed in festive holiday colors decorates the room too. Miniature candy marshmallows provide the frame and wall for the castle with peaks of colored icing standing like sentinels at each of the four corners.

Decorations abound in classrooms and at windows overlooking the street. They range from Santa Claus faces to paper chains, manger scenes, and tree and door ornaments made from tin can and meat pie plate bases.

In Mrs. Ruth Keeran's fourth grade room, large figures in metal of Mary and Joseph highlight the Nativity scene For a background, children did colored chalk scenes of Wise Men on the blackboard and watercolored the faces of angels. A doll brought by one of the students lies in a box simulating a crib, covered with a white blanket.

AT OTHER elementary buildings youngsters are busily at work making their own Christmas cards and door decorations for the room and their homes.

The outstanding display at George Washington is a bulletin board depicting with cards the theme of Christmas around the world. Three-dimensional holiday decorations are seen at the windows.

At Glenwood and N. Main St. buildings, central themes prevail in window trimmings. Glenwood windows depict snow scenes with lanterns.

Students in each class at Pearl St. will carol to other rooms in a special progressive program. At Silver St. the patrol will spread Christmas cheer to shut-ins by going caroling Thursday after school.

In this building a tree will adorn each room with decorations made by the pupils. Most schools in the city, however, will have one large Christmas tree in the hall with only some of the classrooms boasting smaller ones.

BAKER AND EDISON Junior High Schools have used holiday decorations in preparations for their tea dances. Baker's "Holly Hop" was held Friday night and Edison's "Jingle Bell Jump" will take place Tuesday night with the Stardusters providing music.

Taft and Baker will give special choral programs in assemblies this week with parents invited to attend. At Harding the a cappella choir will present the Christmas assembly and all three choirs will carol through the halls and around the decorated spruce tree in the courtyard, if weather permits.

The Taft and Harding home economics departments, gaily decorated with cookies and tree ornaments, will give faculty teas this week, too.

The traditional stained glass windows at Taft are being put into place and students in the arts and crafts course there are making card designs from linoleum block printing. Bell decorations which actually jingle have been turned out from metal for use on doors at home.

Mrs. Mary Conyers' special class has on display at Taft the many gifts youngsters have made for their parents. Outstanding examples are woven baskets some of which have painted and carved bottoms.

SANTA'S TOY SHOP. Toys galore, just like the ones Santa might turn out at his North Pole headquarters, are the basis for a timely and education project in Miss Helen Evans' first grade at Oakland. Youngsters have brought favorite toys or games to class and placed them on the shelves of their play store. They take turns as cashier and customer, picking out an item they would like Santa to bring. Toy money is handed across the counter to pay for the purchases. Pictured here taking a make-believe dollar to ring up in the cash register is Susan Whisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whisler of 1030 Congress St. Her twin customers, Stephan Moody (left) and James Moody hold the gifts they have selected from the display. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moody of 715 Davids St.

Christmas Operettas, Plays To Be Presented by Schools

Christmas operettas and pageants, all heralding the approach of the holiday season, will be presented this week in several city public schools.

Many of the programs will take the place of normally scheduled PTA meetings, school officials said today. All of them are open to the public.

"The Christmas Story of the Bible," depicted in four scenes, will be given by grades four and five at Silver St. Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Three Choirs Take Part

Three choirs will take part. They are the speaking choir, singing choir and angel choir. Things to be depicted are the Enunciation, the Manger Scene, the Shepherd Scene and the Church Scene, including participation of the Rev. Myers Bost, pastor of Lee St. Presbyterian Church.

The costumed production is under the direction of fourth and fifth grade teachers. It will be given for students Tuesday afternoon.

"A Story of the Christmas Carols" in narration, pantomime and song will be fifth graders contribution to the holiday season at Mark St. The program will be given Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Narrator will be Barbara Chappell. Miss Mary Smith and Mrs. Dorothy Klehm are the directors.

Each grade will pantomime a Christmas window when the George Washington student body presents its program Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Each Grade To Sing

Children from each grade will sing in the chorus. Windows to be illustrated are "Toy Shop," "Department Store," "Book Store," "Christmas Tree Land," "Candy Shop," "Music Store" and a "Church Window."

Narrators are Ronald Diegle and Steven Whipps. Mrs. Patricia Waldbauer is program director, assisted by the teachers. A social hour for parents will follow the presentation with refreshments served by PTA room mothers.

"The Great Announcement," a musical pageant, will be presented by fourth and fifth grades at Vernon Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

The costumed program will feature choral reading, instrumental music and singing. The plot concerns the angel host and their problems in proclaiming the news of Christ's birth.

Two programs are slated for presentation at Glenwood this week, one Monday night and the other Thursday. Both will be given in the multi-purpose room at 7:30 p.m.

North Pole Scene

Youngsters in grade one will present a Christmas play, featuring scenes at the North Pole and in Lollipop Lane among others. The program is entitled "Christmas Fantasy."

For the Thursday night presentation second and third graders in Mrs. Mary Feight and Miss Marlene Graham's rooms will take part. The third grade group will do carols and Scripture readings from the Bible while Mrs. Feight's second grade will give a play.

Choral reading and singing will highlight the Olney Ave. program Thursday afternoon in the multipurpose room. Students in grades one through three will participate. The regular PTA business meeting will be held at 1:15 p.m., followed by the program.

Galion's Trouble Clinic Faces Clothing Problem

GALION — The Galion Trouble Clinic, internationally known for giving a helping hand to others who have trouble, currently is having some trouble of its own.

The trouble which confronts the clinic is in obtaining enough warm clothing to meet requests that have come in with the unexpected and extremely cold weather. This problem has come at a time when the clinic is in the midst of its Christmas work.

The need for clothing is not just for Christmas, clinic officers explained, but for the many people of Galion who have suddenly been plunged into the throes of winter without sufficient clothing to keep them warm, and with insufficient funds to purchase the necessary items.

THE CLINIC, which maintains a year - around clothing room, started off with a low inventory this fall. It was exhausted when the cold weather arrived.

Contributions of boots and any type of clothing are being sought to go along with the Christmas baskets and toys, said Miss Margaret Loris, president of the clinic.

Usable toys that will not need repair is another need. This is pointed out by the Rev. Robert J. Elliott, vice president, who has been assisting Miss Loris during this busy season by acting as general chairman for the Christmas projects.

The Clinic has been acting as a clearinghouse for organizations and clubs in Galion who desire to remember someone who would not otherwise have a Christmas this year.

The major portion of the clearinghouse work is being handled by Mrs. A. E. Hocker. She is compiling a list of families and individuals in Galion who need to be remembered. She also is contacted by clubs and organizations who want to give a Christmas to others. One of the case workers for the clinic, Mrs. Evelyn Hollanshead, who is contacted by organizations and who knows of many cases, coordinates her efforts with Mrs. Hocker.

THE DONORS are given the names of families, and then either a personal call is made, or a note sent to the family telling them that they are being adopted for Christmas.

"We believe that this is important because there are many parents in Galion who are really worrying themselves sick this year over their inability to provide any Christmas for their families," said Miss Loris.

In the Christmas project, many toys have been repaired by members of the Galion Fire Department although the supply for the firemen to work on was low this year. The old St. Patrick's Catholic church is headquarters for the collections.

It is there that members of the 20-30 club are helping to sort toys and prepare them for delivery, as well as fixing fruit baskets for the aged. The club this year is handling the deliveries for the Trouble Clinic.

MRS. MARION ROSER, health nurse for Galion city schools, and Sisters of St. Joseph's parish, have obtained names of children to be remembered. Names of the aged and the blind were obtained by Mrs. Harvey Huy who is being assisted by John O'Hara in buying gifts.

Following a practice of the past several years, the clinic purchases personal gifts for each basket for the aged who have no one else to remember them. Mrs. Albert Ritzhaupt gives her time and talent to wrap the articles.

"We weren't sure that we could do as much work this year as in previous years, because for some reason it seemed we were as hard hit as the persons who needed our help," said Miss Loris. "However," she added, "checks came in this week from persons whom we thought did not know about Trouble Clinic. It was like pennies from heaven because the contributions came from people unsolicited."

School To Be Toured

School board members and executive heads from Logan County Schools will visit Harding High School Tuesday, touring the building to observe organization and operations. A special luncheon has been planned for the group.

Giants Sink Browns 13-10 on 49-Yard Field Goal

Summerall's Boot Brings on Playoff

NEW YORK (AP)—A field goal through the snow by a fellow who wasn't expected to play . . . the keen eyes of a battleworn Texan . . . and what everybody thought was a boner by football's master coach.

They added up today to a bonus for National Football League fans, next Sunday's playoff between the plucky New York Giants and the mighty Cleveland Browns for the Eastern Conference championship.

Win in Final 10 Minutes

The two arch rivals tied for the regular season championship with 9-3 records Sunday as Texan Kyle Rote set up a touchdown with 10 minutes left, and hobbled Pat Summerall booted a 49-yard field goal with two minutes remaining to give New York a 13-10 victory. A tie would have given Cleveland the title.

The winner of next Sunday's playoff will play host to the Western champion Baltimore Colts Dec. 28 in the pro title game.

The other NFL clubs have completed their seasons. Baltimore lost 21-12 to San Francisco Sunday.

Los Angeles and the Chicago Bears tied for second in the West with 8-4 marks as the Rams closed out with a 34-20 decision over Green Bay and the Bears defeated the Detroit Lions 21-16. Washington blanked Philadelphia 20-0 in Sunday's other game. Pittsburgh, No. 3 in the East, finished Saturday with a 38-21 victory over the Chicago Cards.

It's doubtful the Giants would be still alive, if it hadn't been for a call by Paul Brown, the coach of pro football's greatest organization.

Leading 10-3 midway in the third period, the Browns drove to the New York 13 behind the great Jimmy Brown—who gained 148 yards in 26 rushes. With fourth down and five to go, Lou (The Toe) Groza stepped back to the 20 for his fourth field goal try of the game. He had missed twice, hit once—from the 22.

Score Stops Freeman

But instead of kicking, Brown had called for a fake. Bobby Freeman took the snap from center, jumped up and took off around left end. He ran full into Giants' linebacker Harland Svare, who threw him for an eight-yard loss.

After an exchange of kicks and a Milt Plum fumble, the Giants' Frank Gifford fired a 39-yard pass to Rote to the Cleveland 6 on a play Rote called when he spotted a weakness in the Browns' pass defense. A running play lost a yard before Gifford passed to Bob Schnelker in the end zone for a touchdown. Summerall's conversion made it 10-10.

Four minutes later, the Giants drove from their 30 to Cleveland's 25. On fourth down, and with 4½ minutes remaining, Summerall missed a field goal from the 33. It looked as though the comeback had been nailed, but two minutes later the Browns' Dick Deschaine, soundly rushed by the Giants' defense, got off a wobbly 22-yard kick that went out of bounds on the Cleveland 43.

Three passes went awry before Summerall sent his booming field goal soaring through the snow and over the uprights. Two minutes and seven seconds showed on the clock.

Summerall, who suffered a right knee injury against Detroit Dec. 7 and was on the doubtful list all week, said:

Gets Second Chance

"When I missed the shorter one, I thought I'd never get another chance. I hit it good. I think it would have been good if it had been another 10 yards away."

"Imagine having to beat the Browns three times in one season to even get into the championship game," said Giants' Coach Jim Lee Howell. Once is tough enough. Twice—and now again.

"But I guess the boys will probably want to play it," he added with a grain.

San Francisco made it a fond farewell for retiring Coach Frankie Albert with veteran quarterback Y. A. Tittle engineering three touchdown drives. J. D. Smith bolted for two second half TDs at the end of long 49ers drives.

The Colts only touchdown came on a Johnny Unitas to Jim Mut-

GIANT HEROES CELEBRATE.. The three key men in New York's 13-10 victory over the Cleveland Browns celebrate their victory in New York's locker room. Frank Gifford (left) lends a hand as Pat Summerall displays the foot that did the trick. Bob Schnelker looks on. Summerall kicked two field goals, the last one coming from the 49 with two minutes to go. Schnelker, Giant end, caught a pass from Gifford for the only touchdown. The two teams meet next Sunday in Yankee Stadium in a playoff battle. (UPI Tel photo)

Brown Claims Officials Miss Fumbled Pass

NEW YORK (AP)—"There isn't a man in this room who doesn't think Frank Gifford fumbled that ball," Coach Paul E. Brown said in the Cleveland dressing room after Sunday's 13-10 loss to the New York Giants.

"I thought he made the catch, was hit and fumbled it. Just as simple as that," Brown went on.

"The Giants throught he fumbled it, too. Did you see their defensive team? Some of them started out on the field, thinking that Gifford had fumbled and the ball was ours.

"That was the big play, one of the fateful things. They wouldn't have won it otherwise. They would never had the chance to kick that field goal."

The fourth-quarter play Brown meant was a third-down pass starting on the Cleveland 42. Chuck Conerly fired to Gifford who ran into Galen Fiss and dropped the ball, which Walt Michaels of the Browns picked up and started to carry toward the New York goal.

After a moment's hesitation head linesman Charley Berry waved an incomplete pass, and on the next and last down Pat Summerall booted the game-winning 49-yard field goal.

"The officials just stood there," Brown said. "No one wanted to call the play. Finally, Berry made the decision. I told him after the game I thought he missed it."

Suffer 4th Defeat

Irish Drop 48-41 Fray to Mt. Gilead

By ALLAN BOVEY

Marion Catholic sent its hardcourt legion into action against arch-rival Mount Gilead Saturday night on the Green and White's floor and lost its fourth game in as many starts this season. The final count was 48-41 in favor of Len Walls' Indians.

The visitors thus quit the Irish boards with their undefeated status intact, but Walls' lads, expected to administer a sound trouncing to the inexperienced Robbinsmen, had their anxious moments before the final horn sounded.

FOR MARION displayed a new spirit of tenacity, and trailed the Gilead crew by one point, 9-8, at quarter's end, after getting away to a 4-0 lead before the Indians could tally.

By halftime, Mount Gilead was atop a 22-19 count, but the fast pace had seen the score change hands five times, with the tally tied at 6-6, 11-11, 13-13 and 17-17.

After three quarters of play, the Irish were down 41-29, as the visitors finally began to find the range of the Catholic bucket, and although the Robbinsmen pulled to within seven points of a tie at 40-47 late in the finale, after letting Gilead stretch its margin to 12, faded in the final seconds.

All told, Marion Catholic accounted for 18 goals and five free throws for respective percentages of 34 and 30. The Irish outhit the Indians from the field, allowing them only 17 from the floor, but gave Walls' cagers 36 foul shot attempts, 14 of which they made for 39 per cent. The Robbinsmen committed 27 personal fouls, compared to 14 whistled against the Indians.

The fouls counted heavily against the Irish late in the fracas and the 500 fans on hand saw the Robbinsmen's Paul Hurney, Ted Anderson and Steve Myers thumbed from the contest in the fourth quarter. Hurney went out with 3:16 left, Anderson with 2:36 on the clock, while Myers departed with 1:17 remaining.

High point man for Marion Catholic was Tom Rish, whose five goals accounted for 10 points. Hurney got eight and Dennis Dickerson six.

PACING THE scoring for the game, however, was Mount Gilead's Roy Johnson, who rolled in four goals and five free throws for 13 points. Jim Rutherford and Tom Harden both posted 11-point totals.

The Indians, who had some of the starch taken out of them in winning over Lexington Friday night 54-53, found the basket a dinky target in the first period, and Marion's aforementioned 4-0 lead came on goals by Hurney and Rish. Denny Blose finally zeroed in for two points and shortly added two more, getting a charity shot in the bargain to give the Indians a 5-4 lead.

Johnson lobbed in a gift toss to make it 6-4 but Rish dropped one in to knot the count at 6-6. Johnson got another goal and free throw to give Gilead nine, while Hurney goaled to add two points to the Irish total at quarter's end.

Goals by Rish and a free throw by Dennis Blue gave Marion 11 points, but Rutherford hit to tie it up at 11-all. Blue hit and Marion led 13-11. Johnson scored to tie it a 13-13. Anderson got two free throws and the Irish had a 15-13 edge and Myers scored for a 17-13 advantage. That was to be the Robbinsmen's biggest lead. Rutherford dropped in a long set shot and Harden rolled in a free throw to put Gilead into a 17-17 tie. Then it was Rutherford with a free throw and Johnson from the corner to make it 20-17, the Indians in the van. Anderson got one more goal and Harden scored on a layup to put Walls' cagers in the lead at 22-19 at halftime.

Rish, with four fouls, sat out the third quarter, and Mount Gilead suddenly began to take a new lease on life. They upped their lead to five points at 30-25, then to seven, 34-27, and to 12 by quarter's end at 41-29.

Marion dumped in 12 points in the finale, compared to seven for Mount Gilead, which went into periodic stalls from the 5:13 mark on. With Hurney, Anderson and Myers leaving the game the Irish cause, by then dim, was lost, and Robbins sent in his substitutes.

BAD PASSING and some shoddy floor play contributed to the Catholic downfall. And, while the Irish did a passable job of rebounding under the Indians' boards, they failed to follow up their own aerials. Gilead, in consequence, wound up in possession on many an occasion where Irish goal attempts might have counted.

Robbins, at game's end, was disgruntled with his squad's showing, noting that mistakes cost them the game as much as anything. "If you err, someone's going to take advantage of you," he asserted. "Gilead was handed the ball times when we should have been working in for shots of our own."

Walls, who declared that his team should have "really beat them good," attributed the relatively close score to his charges' inability to hit, especially in the first half. He noted that their 39 per cent at the foul line compared to a better than 50 per cent mark in their three previous outings.

The Gilead frosh also remained undefeated by downing the Irish 36-17.

Mount Gilead led 9-6 at the quarter, 22-12 at the half and 29-17 after three periods of action. The Robbinsmen were unable to tally in the fourth quarter. Larry Roth was high for Marion with eight, while Gilead's Fath posted 13.

HUNTER, Utah (AP) — M. B. Peterson stepped into the frigid dawn outside his home and found his 2-year-old son Zachary frozen to death on the lawn. The family was unaware the boy had left the house. The temperature had dipped to 22 degrees during the night.

TIES NFL RECORD. Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's fullback star, outraced four New York Giant defenders on the first play from scrimmage Sunday at New York. The Cleveland ace went 65 yards for a touchdown. Green Bay made it a struggle for the Rams and only a brilliant passing foray by Billy Wade brought Los Angeles the victory. Wade pitched scoring strikes to Del Shofner and Jon Arnett for 43 and 75 yards.

The Bears scored twice in the final quarter against the Lions, who had a 16-7 third period lead. With three minutes remaining, Willie Galimore rambled 36 yards for the clinching TD.

The Eagle shutout, first for Washington since 1955, also boosted the Skins into fourth place in the East. Eddie LeBaron, battling for the league's passing title, unofficially clinched it when he shot a 71-yarder to Bill Anderson for a last quarter score.

Larson Names Elyria's Barton As Aide in All-Star Grid Play

Gordon Larson today announced the selection of his first assistant for the annual, North-South Ohio All-Star football game next August at Canton.

The Prexy coach, Ohio's coach of the year, will guide the Northern squad in the contest.

Bill Barton, head coach of Elyria High School's Pioneers, was the first assistant named by Larson.

Barton, a Buckeye Conference foe, guided his Pioneers to sixth place in the state during the past season, losing only one game, a 22-16 loss to Harding. Harding rolled to first place in one major news service poll and finished second in the other.

The 35-year-old Barton is married and has two children. He is winding up his fourth year at the Elyria helm and in that time has recorded 22 wins while losing 13 and tieing one.

Barton started his coaching career at Talmadge in Summit County where he coached during 1950 and 1951. From there he moved to Wadsworth where he remained from 1952 through 1954 when he moved to Elyria. His overall coaching record shows 52 victories, 26 defeats and three ties.

His record at Elyria during the past two seasons is the best since the 1947 state championship grid powerhouse.

Richwood Drops 61-47 Cage Battle

LEWIS CENTER — Olentangy played host to Richwood Saturday night in a cage action and downed the visiting Tigers 61-47.

The cagers of Coach Brownie Cellar led from the outset, taking a 21-12 quarter score, leading 32-18 at halftime, and posting a 51-34 margin after three periods of play.

All told, the Braves rimmed Richwood buckets for 23 goals and 15 free throws, compared to 17 from the field and 13 at the foul line for the Tigers.

Coach Bill Morrison's cagers were paced by the 19-point scoring of Steve Robinson, who rolled in six goals and seven charity shots. Jim Christy got an even 10.

Cutler hit for 10 goals and one free throw to top the game's scoring at 21 points.

Olentangy, which has lost but one game, and that to Prospect, handed Richwood its third loss in six starts.

Assails Congressional Committee

James Roosevelt Helps Promote Teamster Film

By VICTOR RIESEL

In a new movie starring gentleman Jim Hoffa you will find Congressman James Roosevelt prominent among the supporting cast of characters.

VICTOR RIESEL

Jim Roosevelt, a picture producer of old who was never cast in his own films, plays himself in this "hard sell" celluloid venture called "Trial By Committee."

The committee, of course, is Sen. John McClellan's hardy band of men. The trials are those of Jimmy Hoffa — and somebody ought to give the film editor a gold truck wheel as a prize. For in these glued up clips of the Bob Kennedy crusade, Jim Hoffa looks good.

This is a 33-minute "pix" which Variety's critics may not get around to previewing, for it is for the truck trade.

The opus was produced by the Missouri-Kansas Conference of Teamsters. To add real dignity to it, they asked James Roosevelt to say a few well chosen words about what the boys would like to label inquisition by inquiry.

Mr. Roosevelt, a good friend of Hoffa's gray - matter eminence, Harold Gibbons, agreed to get himself sound tracked.

THE CONGRESSMAN'S Washington office reports that Mr. Roosevelt did this in October, just before the political re-election campaign began in his Los Angeles County district.

Twin billing with Jim Hoffa is a matter of taste. Apparently James Roosevelt did not find it distasteful.

If Mr. Roosevelt did not intend to give the impression that he was joining forces with Hoffa in a propaganda assault on a congressional colleague — and one in his own party at that — then Jim Roosevelt learned little from his days at the Goldwyn studios or from his own Globe Productions. Take it in context. It's not what Mr. Roosevelt says, it's where he says it.

He hits at congressional committees which permit public testimony against individuals without giving the accused the right of cross-examination.

Congressional committees should only conduct hearings to obtain information for legislation, he says.

They should not serve as judges and juries of witnesses, Mr. Roosevelt says in the film's concluding sequence. Before that there are scenes starring Gibbons and Hoffa.

THIS IS NOT the first time that James Roosevelt has appeared for the Teamsters. On Jan. 27, 1957, the congressman spoke before the 14th Annual Shop Conference of Gibbons' Local 688 in St. Louis.

His speech is now in our permanent literature as one booklet in what the Teamsters call the "Labor in Mid-America" series. This is published by the St. Louis Joint Council of Teamsters.

Mr. Roosevelt has apparently not lost any of the daring of his Carlson's Raiders Marine days. He is the first national legislator to cooperate publicly with the Teamsters.

Hoffa and company need many such prominent friends badly at this moment National respectability is the objective of the Teamsters' expensive new public relations drive — of which the film is only one colorful facet.

What makes Mr. Roosevelt's screen adventure even more daring is the fact that he went before the Teamster cameras just before election when he was working closely with the leaders of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Whether he likes it or not, James Roosevelt and his words will be the walloping argument at many Teamster rallies dedicated to the demise of the McClellan committee.

There are now three master prints of "Trial By Committee," soon to be turned out by the score and shown across the land.

Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

Esteban found the bottle of gas with which the professor plans to kill the fairies. But the professor trapped him and opened a trap door beneath him. As Esteban falls he tosses the bottle to the professor to keep it from breaking.

Chapter 10

THE MOLE HOLE

Down, down, down went Esteban in a hole that seemed to have no bottom. Faster and faster he went. He thought that when he landed he would surely be crushed.

Suddenly he did land—right on his head! But he wasn't even hurt. For he landed on a bed.

It was a teeny bed with fat, white pillows and a bright red blanket. On a table by the bed stood a tiny lamp glowing brightly.

There was a tiny rocking chair nearby and a wash stand with a tiny wash bowl on it.

On a shelf there were some tiny books. Esteban picked up one of the books. It was called "Digging for Fun."

Esteban shook his head in puzzlement. Could he possibly have gone right through the earth and landed on the other side of the world? But why would people there live in such small houses?

JUST THEN he heard a scraping noise. The scraping grew louder until finally there was a great big thump and a hole was punched right through the wall.

Through the hole bounced a fat little mole with a top hat on his head and a brief case in his paw. Great furry eyebrows hung over his tiny eyes and he wore glasses that were two inches thick.

He peered at Esteban in astonishment "Gracious! I didn't expect guests!"

Hastily he took off his hat and began to bustle around the room, straightening the bed and dusting the books.

"Just a minute and we'll be cleaned up here. I'm sorry I wasn't here when you arrived, but I only moved in a few days ago and I've been terribly busy on the new roads, you know. Or perhaps, you didn't know. Well anyway, I'm home now and very glad to see you."

Down, Down Esteban Fell Into a Strange Weeny Room.

AT THIS he stopped chattering and peered at Esteban through his two inch glasses. "By the way, who are you anyway?"

Esteban took a big breath. "I'm an elf," he began.

"Good gracious?" said the mole. "You're awfully big for an elf. I don't suppose I've ever seen such a big elf."

"Well," explained Esteban. "I'm not an elf anymore. You see, I was an elf but I did everything wrong and made trouble for everyone so the Queen Fairy took away my wings and I'm a boy now. But I'm going to be an elf again if I'm a good boy."

The mole shook his head in wonder at such a story. "But, tell me," he asked, "How did you get into my bedroom?"

"The professor tricked me!" cried Esteban. "Now he has the bottle and I'll never be able to get it again!"

THE MOLE took off his glasses and wearily rubbed his eyes. "I wish you'd just start at the beginning and tell me the whole story," he begged.

So Esteban told how Charlotte's mother had been put under a spell by the Hangdog Hag and could never wake again. How Charlotte's father, in order to destroy the witch, had made a gas that would kill not only the Hag but all fairies and elves in the world.

"And I must get to Santa Claus for help," finished Esteban. "But how will I ever get there?"

That fat little mole sat in his rocking chair and rocked busily.

By and by, he smiled happily and bounced from the chair.

"The Snuke!" he cried.

"What?" said Esteban.

"The Snuke," said the mole.

"The Snuke will get you there!"

British, Germans Join To Produce Small Ford

COLOGNE (NANA) — Ford Motor plants in Germany and Britain are collaborating on the designing of a new Ford "small car" for production and sale by Detroit Ford in the United States.

The project is nearly complete, and it was given final approval by Henry Ford II on a trip to the Ford plant here. German Ford sources said the miniature Ford is scheduled to go into production in the U.S. in August, 1959.

It is understood that the new model will be slightly larger than the German Ford M-17 Taunus —and somewhat smaller than the smallest American - made car now on the market.

It will blend features of the British and German Fords calculated to appeal most to the American market. Basically, it will be an economy car, priced low, and cheap to operate. But Ford hopes to provide enough comfort to make it a practical single car for a family of five.

Ford, while here, would only say that the new car "will be bigger than a Volkswagen." He indicated that the Ford organization believes it can sell 200,000 or more of the new small cars despite the U.S. recession upturn.

Ford said the recession had made auto buyers more "cost conscious," and that an economy car, if carefully tailored to this new cost-conscious American motor market, "Stands a real chance."

The theory in handling the Ford small-car project to German and British Ford was that successful small-car designing seems to be a European monopoly.

Ford himself seems convinced that the small car is in the U.S. to stay. On his trip here, he predicted European auto exports to the U.S. would reach 375,000 units this year, and up to 425,000 units in 1959.

German and British Fords now rank third in foreign auto sales in the United States, behind Volkswagen and Renault's Dauphine. German Ford is exporting 40,000 units to the U.S. this year.

In contrast to the U.S., Germany is completing a record auto-production year. Total output for 1958 will reach 1,500,000 cars, up 300,000 from 1957.

By JOHN CROSBY

The Great Unseen

I don't really like "The Invisible Man." I'm speaking now of the man himself, not the TV series (CBS — Tuesdays 8—8:30 p.m.) of which he is a hero. "How on earth can you dislike an invisible man?" my assistant wants to know. "You're just prejudiced."

JOHN CROSBY

"I'm not either prejudiced," I retort. "Some of my best friends are invisible. Or almost invisible. But this invisible man just isn't a very nice one.

"You don't have to like every invisible man. There are nice ones and not so nice ones. I liked the Kirbys. I thought they were awfully nice. Never bothered me at all that they were invisible."

"What's the matter with this invisible man?"

"Well — he's heavy. He takes invisibility seriously — something the Kirbys never did. The Kirbys used to play pranks with his invisibility."

"ALL INVISIBLE men play pranks with their invisibility just as all Scotchmen pinch nickels," said my assistant vaguely.

"This one doesn't. This one belts the people who can't see him. It doesn't seem fair."

"The Invisible Man" is out of H. G. Wells by way of a lot of science fiction. I didn't get around to the opening installment but I gather the guy got that way by spilling something on himself. He's not always invisible.

IN HIS MORE visible moments he wears a white sock over his face with dark glasses, giving him a sinister and unappetizing appearance, so that it improves things when he elects to go underground or invisible.

Of course, my mother always said that if you knew one invisible man, you knew them all, and I must say there's a germ of truth in that. I never knew an invisible man who didn't go around opening doors mysteriously, making things sail through space, and driving cars that seem to have nobody in them.

This one has quite a penchant for frightening ladies on elevators. All of 'em like to right wrongs and this one likes especially to right the ones involving those villains behind the Iron Curtain.

You can tell they're the bad guys because they have an accent and say things like: "Kumred kummissar," sounding exactly like the same actors who not so long ago were playing Nazi generals.

Incidentally, the commercials on the show are also invisible. No sponsor.

Meanwhile on another network, you'll find "Ellery Queen," which is an hour, live, and in color. I suspect it's live and in color simply ot keep a dramatic show in color.

THERE AREN'T any others. Kraft Theater was in color but it doesn't exist any more.

"Ellery Queen," of course, is the old chestnut that has been in the paperbacks these many years. It is old - fashioned mystery redolent with dialogue like: "I was not at all prepared for the sight that greeted my eyes." (A hidden room, nightgown, straitjacket and hypodermic needle.)

Ellery Queen is a nice young detective who muddles through, rather than performs, feats of mental brilliance.

It's been a long time since I heard lines like: "Suddenly it hit me. It had been staring me in the face all the time. There had been one witness to Karen's murder. Now I knew who it was."

It's like meeting an old friend.

The Ellery Queen stories are very complex whodunits, real mysteries which, in the orgy of sadistic jaw punchings, are pretty rare. I won't go so far as to say they're good drama, but they're interesting. Also, it's refreshing to see some drama live and in color, if only to keep the franchise.

Diner Takes Easy Solution to Puzzle

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Richmond News Leader reports this one:

A man was eating beans and hot dogs in a restaurant. His fork cut into a hot dog, but the end circled off his plate and into the open handbag of a woman at the next table too engrossed in conversation to notice. What to do? Apparently the social arbiters had never anticipated this. After a bit of hesitation the man left without telling the woman.

First Ohio Missionaries Will Be Sent to Egypt

New Plane To Be Ready in 1959

Convair Firm in Quest Of Fastest Jet Airliner

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (NANA) — Millions of man-hours of work and $250,000 in design, tooling, manufacturing and material costs will have been spent on the Convair 880 jet airliner when it takes to the commercial airways in the spring of 1960.

The Convair 880, which will be the world's fastest commercial airliner, will fly from New York to Chicago in little more than an hour, from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C., in less than four hours; and from Los Angeles to Chicago in just over three hours.

Each 880 will carry from 90 to 120 passengers, depending on whether it is a luxury or a coach flight. It will go into commercial service four years after its development started. Deliveries to airline customers will begin in November, 1959, and the plane will go into scheduled airline service in the spring of 1960. Five 880's are now on the production lines. Each one has 18,000 structural parts, exclusive of systems, components and furnishings.

Testing of the various materials and assemblies of the 880's started during the first engineering phase and will not stop until 14 months after the first models have been completed.

Hailstones are blown against the leading edges of the wings.

Fuselage panels are placed in refrigerators and ovens to determine their resistance to the elements.

Cockpit assemblies are dunked in water tanks to test their resistance to pressure.

Dead chickens are blasted against the windshield panels to test their resistance to birds in the air.

Hot air is blown at the windshield panels.

Fuselage sections are bolted down and yanked back and forth to see if artificially applied cracks will spread and how fast.

After these static tests, three of the first four 880's will be flight-tested for 14 months. The fourth will be proof-tested in place at the company's seaplane ramp here.

Then, when the producion is complete and all the tests have proved satisfactory, the fifth 880 model will be delivered to an airline to go into commercial service.

Medicine Wasted On Wrong Patient

CHING SHUI, Formosa (AP)—The Rev. Francis X. Keelan of Cambridge, Mass., a Maryknoll missioner in Formosa, tells this one on himself.

A mission handyman came to him and asked if he had anything for a sore throat. The priest found a bottle of medicine and poured a tablespoon of it down the man's throat.

"He quivered and grimaced," says Father Keelan, "When his power of speech finally returned I asked him what he thought of the medicine. 'It's very good,' he gasped. 'But I wanted it for my grandmother.'"

Illness Stirs Speculation

Lodge Is Seen in Dulles' Job if Secretary Leaves

WASHINGTON (NANA) — The recent hospitalization of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has raised what may be a greatly important question concerning the final two years of President Eisenhower's tenure.

Dulles, 71 next February, was operated on Nov. 3, 1956, for removal of a cancerous section of his larger intestine. Last week he was in Walter Reed military hospital because of an inflamed colon. The latter condition was nothing serious, physicians reported, and Dulles is in Paris this week for meetings with the Allies concerning Berlin and with all members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But Dulles' ability to stay on until the end of the Eisenhower administration is measurably precarious. And if he should suddenly drop out, foreign diplomats wonder who would succeed him.

THE BEST GUESS among them is Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. Another prospect of course is Christian Herter, the under-secretary of state. But due to the completeness of Dulles' domination of the State Department, Herter has had little opportunity to get his hand in.

Lodge probably is much better prepared, from the standpoints both of knowing the intricacies of a wide variety of international problems and close knowledge of President Eisenhower's views.

A third man frequently mentioned is Gen. Alfred Gruenther, Ike's second in command and successor as head of the NATO military organization. But Gruenther damaged his prospects by resigning the NATO post to become head of the National Red Cross. Lodge would be much more certain to win confirmation by the presently heavy Democratic Senate. The Senate always favors its own above all.

THE PRIME factor, however, is the peculiar nature of Dulles' administration. If ever there was a one-man show, this is it. Whether sitting in his sumptuous home office or flying far and wide, Dulles' is the only voice that dares speak for the State Department.

This is not to say President Eisenhower is a nonentity. Quite a few times he has overridden Dulles, such for example as in depreciating the Chinese islands of Quemoy and Matsu as an ultimate essential to U.S. welfare. But nobody other than the President is known to have overridden a Dulles decision.

To understand this Dulles domination it is essential to recall his background. He sat in an outer office seeing his uncle, Robert Lansing, secretary of state under President Woodrow Wilson, undercut daily by a nonofficial interloper, Col. Edward M. House. He saw Sumner Welles, a blood cousin of Franklin D. Roosevelt, undercut Cordell Hull.

DULLES HIMSELF served long as an underling, first on the Republican side as second fiddle to Thomas E. Dewey and Arthur Vandenberg and then as a politically off-ox assistant to Democratic secretaries of state George Marshall and Dean Acheson.

Even in his teens, Dulles set as his main target the office of Secretary of State. Before he was 21 he went to the Hague Conference as secretary to his grandfather, John Foster.

Through all these experiences a determination was growing within Dulles that if and when he attained the high pinnacle (never doubting that he would; he was going to be strictly his own man.

As of today he decides, even in hospital, not only what is to be done; he thinks up the ideas in the first place and then conducts all the negotiations even to the extent of flying thousands of miles to the place of determination. Most baffling to his critics is that Dulles usually has been successful in these enterprises, mainly because of his truly great ability.

Even so, a great many competent observers believe that Dulles would be wiser to stay at home more and let others absorb the first blow.

Newlyweds Honeymoon In Clouds for 25 Days

MORRISTOWN, N. J. (AP) — No one tied old shoes and tin cans on Mr. and Mrs. Al Gross' car when they sped off on their honeymoon. The Grosses flew away in their own plane.

They circled 3,000 miles about the United States on a 25-day aerial honeymoon. "We really flew high," said the newlyweds.

Absent-Minded Clerk Takes Flight to Alaska

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A clerk at the Civic Center was reported missing by his supervisor after a four-day absence from his job and apartment. It turned out he wasn't missing; he'd just hopped a Naval Reserve flight to Alaska and back and forgot to mention it.

PICKETS VS PRINCIPLES

BALTIMORE (AP) — A suburbanite in Rodgers Forge, asserting his rugged individualism, hung the gate on his new picket fence with the points down.

It was the only one of its kind on the block. He turned it upright a few weeks later, insisting it was not social pressure but interference with a hedge that prompted his switch.

LIQUID AND LIGHT. The illuminated spouts of the Fontana dell'Organo are a nocturnal lure for visitors to the famed Villa d'Este at Tivoli outside Rome, Italy. Beauty of the spouts which suggest organ pipes is enhanced by lights being played on them.

Proposal To Stir Controversy

Plan To Relax Divorce Laws Drafted in Britain

LONDON (NANA) — What's the best way for two people to get a divorce?

This question is likely to be debated here with increasing heat during the months ahead. Legal reformers and many marriage counselors have long been unhappy about the nation's strict divorce law and now the Marriage Law Reform Society has brought their discontent to a head.

The ambitious society wants to change the whole basis on which Mr. and Mrs. John Bull untie the knot. It advocates a switch from the present "matrimonial offense" system to one centered on whether or not the marriage has broken up for good.

The group, whose ideas parallel those advanced by some American marriage and legal experts, is now putting the finishing touches on a bill it hopes to see introduced in parliament.

THE PROPOSAL would wipe out the setup, also in force in the U.S., whereby the "injured" husband or wife goes into court and proves the defendant mate is guilty of some offense, such as adultery, that constitutes a ground for dissolving the marriage.

Under the society's plan husband and wife simply agree they disagree, and the divorce is granted.

A childless couple would get a divorce if either husband or wife asked for it after at least three years of wedlock and the court decided the two parties agreed their marriage was split beyond hope of repair.

If the couple have children, the divorce-seeking mate also would have to satisfy the judge that real reconciliation attempts had been made and that there were satisfactory arrangements for taking care of the youngsters. Then, the decision is entirely up to the court.

THE BILL WOULD give the divorce court discretion to weigh the balance between the binding sanctity of marriage and the public interest in continuing the union. Public interest is described as entering the picture where continuing the marriage is useless and, perhaps, socially harmful — for example, where illegitimate children may result.

Under the bill, the court would use its discretion in cases where the husband and wife lived apart and one did not want the divorce. Also, where couples did not separate by mutual agreement — say, one deserted — all would be treated as if they had children.

The debate on the old system versus the new is bound to be stormy. The reformers will repeat their past arguments that their plan removes the harmful onus of court-verdict "guilt" from a husband or wife who in reality may be no more at fault than the other partner in the misalliance.

ALSO, IT IS contended, the change would all but end perjury: two people who "just don't get along" wouldn't have to concoct tall tales of love affairs and beatings to satisfy the law's requirements.

Traditionalists, however, fear the social consequences of making divorce "too easy." Also, they point out nearly all law follows the plaintiff - versus - defendant pattern and they dislike abandoning a system that has "worked for so long."

Neither side is going to get much help from the report of the last Royal Commission on Divorce. Two years ago it split right down the middle on this issue.

Swiss Author Offering New Play for Broadway

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway is to inspect another drama by Friedrich Duerrenmatt, the Swiss author of the Lunts' current hit "The Visit."

"The Deadly Game," is the title of the play, based upon Duerrenmatt's novelette "Breakdown." A condensation of the mystery-melodrama was televised last December.

DOUBLE DOUBLE

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. John R. Kremer became grandparents twice on the same day. Their daughters-in-law, Mrs. John R. Kremer Jr., and Mrs. Donald B. Kremer — the former in Van Nuys, Cal., and the latter in Winchester — gave birth to baby boys the same day.

Husband Learns Lesson But Wife Pays the Bill

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—Joseph Liscio was arrested on a complaint from his wife who told police he had "pushed her around."

He pleaded guilty and was fined $9 for breach of the peace.

When Liscio heard the fine, he turned to his wife and said: "Gimmie, please." Even the judge smiled as Mrs. Liscio opened her handbag and paid the fine.

Give A Fabulous
57 FORD
For Christmas!

Yes sir, 1957 was a vintage year for Fords. The year that Ford captured sales leadership with the beautiful Thunderbird Styling and Thunderbird Power.

We think we have the best selection of 1957 Fords, including tudors, fordors, tudor hardtops, fordor hardtops, convertibles and station wagons, to be found anywhere.

Most of them are one-owner cars that have been locally owned and serviced by us. We will be glad to furnish the name and address of the previous owner of any one of these cars and, if possible, show you the service records that we have maintained on them.
